

ROBS WOMAN After Choking Her

BOY LEFT FOR DEAD BY THUG

Lad Smashes Bottle on Ruffian Before He Is Stunned.

MESSINGER BOY
Lester Davis, 11, a messenger boy for the University Phar-macy at the corner of University and Shattock avenues, and about 8 o'clock last evening was sent out to deliver an order of medicine to an address in North Park. While Forest avenue crosses Oxford street tall trees overhang the sidewalk making it a place well suited to the purpose of robbers. As Lester was passing this point a large man suddenly stepped out of the bushes bordering a vacant lot and seized the boy roughly by the throat. Without a word the lad tried to break free but he succeeded in breaking his right arm, striking his assailant with the bottle of medicine which he was carrying.

LEFT FOR DEAD

Blinded by the medicine trickling down his face and stinging his eyes the lad struck the lad a terrible blow in the face and then choking him roughly, tossed the limp form over the fence where he left him for dead. No attempt was made according to the boy's story to rifle his pockets or to make off with the brutal attack on him.

Aetna Indemnity Names Beckham Hunt President

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Announcement was made today that Arthur P. Helmz, for several years president of the Aetna Indemnity Company, has resigned and that Beckham Hunt, former vice-president and general manager of the company, has been elected to succeed Helmz. Some changes in the directorate have also been made.

Says Police Sergeant Beat His Wife

Serious Charges Filed Against Mul-grew and Policeman Collett.

Charges of a startling nature have been preferred against Sergeant of Police James Mulgrew and Patrolman Collett by former Deputy County Clerk G. H. Furey. Furey alleges that at a patrol in the morning of October 4th Sergeant Mulgrew and Patrolman Collett forced their entrance to his apartments at 415 Fifteenth street and hauled his wife and himself out of bed to serve a warrant which was made out for another person. He further declares that when he remonstrated with the policemen for their conduct they indulged in boisterous and offensive language in the presence of his wife and that Sergeant Mulgrew and violent words to Mrs. Furey because she ordered him to leave the room. Furey says that Officer Collett was under the influence of liquor at the time of the visitation.

CHARGES FILED

The charges were filed with the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners several days ago but as yet no action has been taken by that body. Secretary of the Board Walter F. Tweatt said this morning that in accordance with the customary rule in the commission it would be unable to make any statement concerning the charges until they have been finally considered.

FINDS FAMILY WITH POLICE

(Special to THE TRIBUNE)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Lena Finch who called at the city prison last night for assistance after having made a futile attempt to find her husband, whom she had come across the continent to meet in this city, has at length discovered his whereabouts through an item appearing in a morning paper.

The imposition of the ninety days' rule in Rhode Island stopped runs and thus matters assumed a normal phase.

DRUG TAKEN TO BREAK COLD ENDS WIDOW'S LIFE

MRS. ADELE DAVIS.

Autopsy Physician Condemns Druggist for Selling Powerful Heart Depressant to Woman Without Warning.

Mrs. Adele Davis, the beautiful young widow who was found dead in bed in her apartments at the St. Paul House, yesterday afternoon, came to her death through ignorance of the deadly properties of a drug which she had used in an attempt to break up a cold.

On a table beside the dead woman's bed was found a nearly empty bottle of extract of jalap, a powerful heart depressant which is sometimes used by persons suffering from colds for the purpose of inducing a perspiration.

The police are confident that the woman unwillingly took an overdose of the poison and that her death was due to an accident. Every item of information which the detectives have been able to glean about the life and死因 of the deceased woman seems to disclose the fact that she was dead when the body was discovered. Her acquaintances say she was a bright, happy, impulsive girl.

ment and that during the past few days she had been unusually gay and cheerful.

NO FINANCIAL TROUBLE

There were no financial troubles which could have induced her to terminate her existence. In one of the local banks Mrs. Davis had nearly $1200 deposited to her credit. Besides this she had a lucrative practice as a hairdresser in San Francisco and among society women in this city.

TWO TRAIN BANDITS LOADED WITH MONEY Caught by Posse

SPOKANE, Oct. 26.—With $14,000 in national bank notes concealed on their persons at the point of drawn revolver surrounded by a squad of detectives two rough-looking men believed to be the bandits who held up the Great Northern Oriental limited train near Bondur Shing on September 22 and secured $40,000 in green backs threw up their hands and were arrested in a Great Northern dining car as it entered this city last night.

Oakland Man Is Robbed

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Jean Alaux of 511 Light street, Oakland, reported to the police this morning that $400 which he had in his pocket was taken from him some time yesterday either while in this city or en route from Oakland. He said he did not discover his loss until about to retire for the night when he found the inside lining of his vest had been cut open.

N. Y. Clearing House Authorizes Certificates

Financial Situation Is Now Much Stronger

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The stock exchange and the banks closed at noon today without any further failure of importance with considerable improvement in the stock market and with several important remedial measures taken or agreed upon to strengthen the financial situation. The only reverse of the day was the suspension of the Terminal Stock & New and Small Institution without any importance in the general financial world.

There is now a breathing spell until Monday morning and a distinct sense of relief is apparent everywhere. Already arrangements for the importation of gold are well under way and it is hoped those will furnish the relief needed. It is understood that the treasury department will as heretofore advance the gold for immediate use so as to save the time occupied in transit from Europe.

ISSUE CERTIFICATES

Meanwhile as a precautionary measure although not regarded vitally important the Clearing House today authorized the issuance of loan certificates. This means that the Clearing House banks are to present a united front in this emergency and that the aggregate resources of all of them are to be pledged for the maintenance of each.

The run upon the Trust Company of America and the Lincoln Trust Company continued in very much abated form but both institutions met all demands.

The drafts of new banks in their New York reserves were heavy but not alarming.

Since this period of the year such drafts are to be expected for the purpose of moving the crops.

The imposition of the ninety days' rule in Rhode Island stopped runs and thus matters assumed a normal phase.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Alexander Moss, a burly negro, was captured by the police at 1 o'clock this morning, a few moments after he had attempted to rob Miss Bertha Petit on Pacific street, between Kearny and Montgomery.

The woman told the police that she was walking along the street when the man stepped from the darkness of a doorway, and clutching her about the throat attempted to wrest her pocketbook from her grasp. She struggled with him as best she could, but he finally succeeded in getting the purse away from her and made a dash down the street. Several persons who saw the hold-up blew police whistles and Special Policeman Downey ran to the scene from the direction of Bartlett street, while Officers Burd and Hines came along from Dupont street. Seeing he was cornered the negro did not know where to turn and ran right into the arms of Officer Downey. He was taken to the city prison and booked for robbery.

Endangers Life of Many Passengers---Several Hurt.

CHICAGO Oct. 26.—A casual remark of a witness in Judge C. U. Clark's court yesterday saved a man from conviction of murder on circumstantial evidence.

The State had presented such seeming convincing proof that Angelo Soprano, a Chicago detective, thought that a conviction and a death penalty were expected.

This strong testimony of proof built up by the State collapsed like a bubble when the case was about to go to the jury.

A casual question asked of Dr. Warren Hunter, Chicago physician on cross examination developed that Salvatore Soprano was killed by a bullet from a 32 caliber revolver. The defendant's remarks in this connection were to the effect that he was not in the house when the bullet was fired.

He was removed to the Receiving Hospifully combated and that from now on the restoration of public confidence and tranquility would be speedily accomplished.

The principal difficulty throughout the week's excitement has been lack of currency. There was not enough actual money in the city to stand the tremendous drain without cutting down loans. The small banking institutions that closed this week have good supplies of gilt-edged securities in their vaults, but they could neither sell them nor borrow money on them till week, simply because of the scarcity of actual paper, gold and silver money.

SITUATION IN HAND.

No apprehension was felt this morning as to the result of today's financial transactions. The stock exchange and the banks will be open for business for only two hours, and the stock exchange will not be troubled by the money situation, as all the loans made yesterday carry over until Monday under the ordinary rules of the exchange.

There were small lines of depositors in front of the Trust Company of America and the Lincoln Trust Company, but their number was not so great as at the same hour yesterday.

The direction which remedial efforts will take has been the subject of earnest consideration and some differences of opinion even among the most important bankers of the city. The difficulties are admittedly a large measure local. It is felt that the sudden lack of confidence is not very widespread throughout the country. The situation at Pittsburg and Providence is expected to right itself.

Under these circumstances it was suggested that an effort be made to relieve the tension in New York by gold imports and something in that line is being done.

RATE OF EXCHANGE.

Whether the rate of exchange and the price of American securities will reach a level to enable gold imports on a sufficiently large scale to be effective remains to be seen. It is felt Jacob Schiff put it yesterday, that any effort to press the matter is likely to meet with obstructive measures in London.

As an alternative means of relief, the clearing house loan certificates have been discussed. Naturally everyone is loath to adopt this expedient.

The sub-treasurer received $10,000,000 in small bills from Washington today.

The Trust Company of America opened its doors as usual at 10 o'clock today. There were less than one hundred depositors in line and the company's officials declare that the run is over.

GOLD ON MONDAY.

Leading bankers said today that conditions were such that they would probably be able to import gold from London on Monday to the extent of about $10,000,000.

The bankers' pool which has been supporting stock exchanges houses, gave further assurances today that money would be provided for call loans when needed.

The Terminal Bank of Brooklyn, a small state institution, with a capital of $100,000 and deposits of about $240,000, suspended payment at today.

IN PROVIDENCE, R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 26.—The Industrial Trust Company posted notices in the savings and participation departments just before the opening hour today, declaring that the rule requiring ninety days' notice of withdrawal of deposits had been put into operation. Checking accounts will not be affected by the action.

Only a few persons were in line before the doors of the Industrial Trust Company opened today and it was generally believed that the worst of the financial difficulty had been passed.

A committee from the Clearing House established charge of the financial institution, prepared to render assistance to banks if called upon. The committee reported that in the payment and certification of checks such checks should be made payable only through the Clearing House. This is the customary method of procedure in time of currency stringency. Its effort is to prevent the withdrawal of money from circulation.

QUIET IN PAWTUCKET.

At Pawtucket withdrawals from the Slater Trust Company continued to be above the norm, but the officials stated that they had plenty of money and could pay all demands. Withdrawals from the Pawtucket institution for savings and the Providence County Savings Bank were also in excess of the usual volume, but the depositors failing to take out their funds were mainly wage earners having small accounts.

PITTSBURG CHANGE CLOSED.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26.—There will be no session of the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today. If the situation improves the exchange will probably reopen Monday next.

The closing of the Terminal Bank of Brooklyn was due to the fact that its depositors, the Williamsburg Trust Company, suspended payment yesterday. The vice-president of the Williamsburg Trust Company, W. H. Reid, was president of the Terminal Bank.

The clearing house committee was in session this morning for half an hour and issued a call to a meeting of the full association at 2 o'clock to decide whether clearing house certificates should be issued.

The chairman of the committee said that the situation today depended largely upon developments among the Brooklyn banks.

State Superintendent of Banks Clark Williams said: "Things look a little better. There is a general tone of encouragement all along the line."

PROBABLY FIND SPANISH MINE

Story Out That Prospectors Locate Old Workings in Unknown Spot.

RENO.—Word comes from Battle Mountain that one day recently several parties made a rush into the hills to investigate what they believed to be the discovery of an old Spanish mine reputed to be rich in gold values. Years ago, as the story goes, an old Spaniard by the name of Camon used to make trips to Carlin and send away small bricks of gold by the stage mail. After receiving returns from his gold he would load around Carlin spending most of his time gambling with the soldiers at the old fort, and after his money was all gone would return to the mountains, coming back later with more gold.

EVADES PURSUERS.

Many people tried to follow the old man to his mysterious mine, but like the famous Scotty of today, he always succeeded in evading his pursuers. Finally the attempt was given up and it was reported that he was a counterfeiter. This, however, could not be proven, but his mine came to be considered a myth and at last he was left in peace and was looked upon as one of the eccentric and mysterious characters of the times.

During a severe winter the old fellow started to make a trip back to his rendezvous in the mountains with his pack mules, but froze to death on the way. Later the mules strayed into Carlin with their owner, and the old man and his mysteries were forgotten.

LOANS AT 50 PER CENT.

The First National Bank today notified the Stock Exchange houses to which it had made loans on Friday at 50 per cent that the loans would be continued over until Saturday.

There were about three hundred depositors in line at the Lincoln Trust Company today awaiting an opportunity to withdraw money. Many of them had been given a chance to withdraw a small amount, but the bank messengers in line refused an offer of $500 for his place.

Payments to depositors was continued throughout the day.

NO AVAIL SPECIFIED.

Now comes the story that Tom Jewell, John Finn and Dr. C. P. Fryer of Pleasantide, while out prospecting a few days ago, happened to find in a secluded place an old Spanish furnace. Jewell, who is an expert, recalled to mind the story of the Spaniard and the party began immediately to scour the vicinity in search of any sign of the old workings.

Finally they came upon what appeared to be a small ditch in the side of the hill, thickly covered by sagebrush. Cleaning away the brush and removing some of the dirt, they revealed the opening of a tunnel. The men were afraid to venture far into the opening on account of the decayed condition of the old timbers and the "cave-ins" visible from the entrance. Other parties have gone out in search of the old cabin, believing it may contain some bullion buried within its decaying walls.

The developments are being watched with the greatest interest, but those who made the discovery refuse at present to give out any information regarding its location.

met Mrs. Davis in the hallway of the St. Paul building and she complained of being ill. She did not follow his suggestion to call a physician.

Desiring to inquire about her condition, Stock was called at her apartments about 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. As there was no response when he knocked he pushed the door partly open and found the woman's lifeless body lying upon the bed.

Dr. A. H. Derrick, who performed an autopsy on the body, stated it as his belief that the unfortunate woman knowing that the drug was a heart depressant and often used for colds, but ignorant of the proper quantity, took two-thirds of a once-a-day bottle. He says there is nothing to indicate a case of suicide.

FIND UNOPENED LETTERS.

The dead woman was a daughter of C. Asher of Houston, Texas, and has only been in California about a year. On the dressing table in Mrs. Davis' room were found two unopened letters, one addressed to Mrs. Albert Davis, 72 Santa Clara avenue, no city being given, and the other to J. C. Gayle, box 562, Sacramento, Cal. There was also a business card of Mrs. Davis, on the back of which was memorandum to call up Oakland 7811. The letters are now in possession of Coronor Tidale and will not be opened until the inquest next Wednesday.

Dr. Derrick strongly condemns the action of the druggist who sold the deadly drug to the woman without warning her about its use. He declares that a very small portion of the drug would prove fatal, while Mrs. Davis took nearly two-thirds of an ounce.

children had been compelled to spend the night under the care of the matron in the city prison, the anxious husband and father John Emrich, rushed into police headquarters this morning and demanded that he be taken to his beloved ones at once. The meeting of the little family was a pathetic scene, and the father and mother, with their little ones, were immediately taken to the home at 107 Congdon street.

The whole trouble was caused by a telegram received by Mrs. Emrich in her former home in Newark, N. J. This telegram gave her husband's address as No. 12 "Bangdon" street, and although she drove around to every street which sounded like it last night, she was unable to find upon the right one.

RUNAWAY BOY SUFFOCATED

Gas and Fumes From Engine
Kill Lad While Stealing Ride.

KANSAS CITY.—Four boys—none of them more than 12 years away last Wednesday night to go to New Orleans. Yesterday afternoon they had reached the mountains, Kan. Jerry O'Connor, who organized the expedition, was the only one who was riding inside the coaches of the train they had selected. The other three, Bud Tralle, Willie Smith and Fred Higgins, were riding on the roof of the express car.

After Miss Higgins, the last speaker, sat down the silence was broken by the voices of eighteen young negro women, who sang "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," Miss Jeanes' favorite hymn. "December is Pleasure as May," and "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

SERVANTS PRESENT.

Among those present were several servants of the Jeanes family, who have been connected with the family for years. The grief of the negroes who benefited by the dead woman's generosity was touching. Miss Hobbs, Miss Walker and Frank Draper were with the old woman at the time of her death. The others, Rachel Thompson, Charles Cork and George Washington Gannett, have occupied positions in the Jeanes house at 1022 Grand Avenue. The three latter are all about 30 years old.

Frank Draper was Miss Jeanes' confidential man, and had charge of her rent collecting. During a prayer offered by Mrs. Anna Hillborn, one of the inmates, Higgins was made to sit in the middle of the baby girl. Miss Jeanes had taken an especial fancy to the little one and had consented to have it christened Lavinia Jeanes Draper in her honor.

According to Draper, Miss Jeanes' end came to her quite unexpectedly. She awoke with a sharp pain in her abdomen, feeling as usual and dressed herself as had been sent for and measured her for new wraps. In the afternoon she had a weak spell, went to bed and died within a few hours.

$2,000'000 FOR COUNTY'S USE

BRAVE OFFICER NEARLY KILLED

Board of Supervisors Have Many Calls for Money Entrusted to Their Care.

It was announced this morning that Alameda County Board of Supervisors will have in the neighborhood of $2,000,000 to expend during the fiscal year of 1907-1908. According to county Auditor George S. Pierce this morning completed his report upon the estimated income of the county for the twelve-months and submitted same, with his recommendations, to the Board of Supervisors. The governing body of the county is guided largely by this report in making up their budgets for the year, and sends remittances from the recommendations of the auditor in regard to the distribution of the moneys.

When estimating the amounts to be recommended to the board, 10 per cent of the total county assessment is first deducted, under the rule of anticipated unquencies. Of the balance, 70 per cent may be expended by the supervisors during the six months of the fiscal year, having 30 per cent to take care of the latter part. It is expected that full advantage of this provision will be taken this year, as the board claims to have many calls on the funds entrusted to their care. The funds which are to receive the major portion of the money are the road, infirmary and general fund.

BUSINESS MEN WANT BOND ISSUE TO IMPROVE HARBOR Resolution Passed at Enthusiastic Meeting Suggesting $5,000,000 Be Raised for Bay Shore Improvements.

"Whereas, The city charter provides in section 30, article 3, that the Council shall not grant to any company or corporation more than 1000 feet of water frontage, and bond exchanges were thinking seriously of suspending."

"Men," I said to them, "while I live this exchange shall not die. It must exist, and I will use every effort of which I am capable to keep it alive."

"Why should any organization cease operations in a city such as Oakland? We have everything in the world we could desire, everything, but a harbor and that we shall have."

"What is a million dollars or ten million? What is taxation? Think what it means. It can be likened to an expenditure of half a million dollars on a building which returns thirty or forty thousand a year to the owner. It means returns which shall continue for years, and years to come."

FEARS WAR TO COME.

"I believe we will some day have a terrific conflict with Japan. The United States is not bringing ships to this coast for practice. It means business, and we shall be the center of the fight. The eyes of the world shall turn to us and here we have everything pleasing to those eyes."

"Next Wednesday the mayor of this city will choose twenty-five men and together they will go to Washington to represent Oakland and to present the needs of our harbor. We have every bank and interested water front merchant in this list, and when they return they will be dynamo's of electricity in their plea for the improvements down there on the estuary. We need money and government aid. We must and will have both."

"Understanding what it means, men. Do things and do them now. Oakland is destined to become a great commercial city, but it must have a harbor or even destiny will be locked."

TO SUPPORT MAYOR.

Naph B. Greenfield sold 1000 shares of stock in preparing plans for development of this valuable area for the city's prosperity, and it is our duty and aim to educate the voters to support the mayor's project for an immediate bond issue, once taken advantage of our opportunities."

"As Congressman Knowland had stated, in a few years the Panama canal will be open and we will be in direct communication with Europe. The Orient and its trade is impatiently knocking at our harbor doors for entrance. The Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys are now in direct steam touch with us."

LIBERAL APPROPRIATIONS.

"People Sam has been very liberal in spending his money, doing his best to further our estuary, and Senator Perkins assures us that he and Congressman Knowland will see to it that still more liberal appropriations are made to deepen the estuary, etc."

"The time has come for the city of Oakland and the county of Alameda to do their share, and now is the appointed time for us to unite and encourage the Mayor to call a special session to consider a liberal bond issue, which will be unanimously voted, for the immediate building of wharves and seawall, as all our citizens are anxious to have the opportunity of at once developing our valuable harbor resources to increase and maintain our commercial prosperity."

"Our real estate men have shown their appreciation of the situation in securing over 17,000 names of non-residents, to whom literature of Oakland's greatness is being mailed. Our Chamber of Commerce, the Building and Real Estate Association, our Improvement clubs and our civic organizations are all working harmoniously together for the advancement of the city's interests, and it is the desire of the Improvement League to co-operate with all these forces for the immediate development of our great harbor facilities."

"The city of Oakland makes the Bond of Public Works, the Board of Harbor Commissioners, and we believe that it would be for the best interests of the city that they assume and assert the authority which they have received to make bonds from time to time and that plans for harbor construction may be perfected and a bond issue placed before the people not later than January 1, 1908."

MEANS OF DEVELOPMENT.

"The Harbor, Its Importance as a Means of Developing the Continental Side of the San Francisco Bay" was the subject of Richard Montgomery who spoke as follows:

"Few of the older residents of this city appreciated the value, and importance of the harbor front, otherwise they would never have disposed themselves of this valuable heritage for a song. I know of nothing that compares with the position of Oakland, excepting the Chinese Empire, surrounded by its miles of impregnable walls preventing the commerce of the world from entering."

"In the case of the Chinese Empire, it required the aggressiveness of England to force an entrance into Hong Kong. In the case of the city of Oakland, it required the foresight of the managers of the local 'Key Route' ferry system, and the railroad terminals, backed Gold's Western Pacific for the crossing through Oakland's barrier to commerce."

"The building of this sea wall should be done by the State, the dredging of the harbor should be done by the United States government and the construction of the wharves and docks should be done by the city of Oakland or the State of California, the former preferred."

FAMOUS HARBOR.

"I am a pioneer in this town," said Mr. Laymance, "and for years I have heard discussions on this subject. I have watched to growth of Oakland in all its lines and tonight I wish to add my voice to those of the others in the argument for a harbor."

"What we want to do is to lay out plans for a deep water wharf, put up some money ourselves and get some from the government. Now is the time to get government appropriations. I believe the government is going to be liberal on the Pacific Coast."

JUNGLE KING WALLOPS PUPS $1500 CASH BAIL FORFEITED

Educated Elephant Out for Stroll Resents Insult to His Dignity.

NEW YORK.—"Little Hipp," a juvenile elephant, who is doing a monologue at a Harlem vaudeville theater, has lately served notice on bull terriers of the upper East Side that any attempts to intrude on his privacy will be forcibly resented. As a test of his sincerity, he respectfully calls attention to the present unrepresentable condition of "Mickey" and "Nig," a brace of how-wows, who, up to yesterday, divided the patronage of Harlem between themselves.

After the matinee "Hipp" suggested to "Bill," his chauffeur, that they go for a stroll. Pastoring his chain to "Bill's" wrist, to keep that worthy out of trouble "Hipp" started off as the first division with "Bill" bringing up the rear. They reached Madison avenue and 114th street just as the boys and girls of public school No. 108 were turned loose for the day.

25-YEAR SENTENCE.

Williams was arrested about a month ago on a complaint filed by Dr. Morris Connelly, who, in the course of an attack on the boy, Raymond Hansen, Williams was released on bad furnished by his brother-in-law, and the hearing has been adjourned until the trial date, the representation of the defense that have been unable to prepare their case.

STOP TO CONVERSE.

Recognizing some old friends among the children, "Hipp" stopped to converse with them and introduce his friend. In a few minutes the popular young actor was surrounded by several hundred admiring youngsters. Grownups forgot their dignity and helped swell the attendance. While the reception was in progress, "Mickey," with Thomas Kelly up, and "Nig," driven by Morris Connelly, entered the paddock.

The two bulldogs took in the situation at a glance. Forgetting mutual differences they made a preconcerted rush at "Hipp," who saw them coming and went down the line to receive them. While "Mickey" and "Nig" were trying to figure out which end the elephant's face was on, "Hipp" was tunneling them with his tusks. Finally the elephant wound his trunk around his assailants and dusted the sidewalk with them. When he dropped them both dogs placed what was left of their tails between their rear spines and hobbled to their masters.

"I'm a peaceful pachyderm," trumpeted "Hipp," when the crowd began to cheer him.

"I regret that I was forced to chastise those canine tramps, but I refuse to be taken for a table d'hoche."

PLACED ON PROBATION.

The criminal charge against Dorothy Stein, arrested for stealing jewelry from her employer in Berkeley, was dismissed in the Juvenile Court, the property having been recovered.

Suitable arrangements for a home have been made, and the accused girl is determined to mend her ways. She will be in charge of Deputy Probation Officer Whitney of the Associated Charities.

CUT THIS OUT AND SAVE IT

Says Many Persons Here Can be Made Happy Again by Using This Mixture.

There is so much rheumatism here now that the following advice by an eminent authority will be highly appreciated by those who suffer.

Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Karrow, three ounces of Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, also drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and tortuous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up the mixture, as it is certain to do much good and may save you from much misery and suffering after awhile.

CONTINUE PETTIBONE CASE TO NOVEMBER 18

OISE, Idaho, Oct. 26.—Attorneys for the State and defense in the case of George A. Pettibone, charged with complicity in the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg, today signed a stipulation that the trial, which was set for next Monday, shall be continued until November 18. The reason for the continuance, asserted in the stipulation, is the fact that Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for Pettibone, is engaged in defending Steve Adams, on trial at Rathdrum for the murder of Fred Tyler. It is also agreed that if the Adams trial is not concluded by the date named, there shall be a further continuance.

STREETS TO BAY FRONT.

"With this end in view, I would suggest that Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda take steps to open, as far as feasible, all streets to the water frontage, and to so safeguard these outlets by making charte provisions, prohibiting the relinquishment of any of the public rights thereto, except by elective sanction. This would reduce to a minimum the advantage to be gained by the temporary occupation of the city administrative offices, by officers directed in their duties to their constituents. It would also be wise, to make provision for a standard belt-line railroad skirting the entire water frontage, open to use by all railroads and to prohibit the granting of any privileges, or extensions of railroad franchises to any railroad company, which police is to refuse the interchange freight on reasonable charges, or who resort to obstructive methods at railroad crossings.

"With these numerous approaches and facilities to the harbor frontage the respective cities would be in a position to encourage all classes of commerce either by the construction of wharves, the entrance of new railroads or by leasing certain privileges on a royalty.

FACTORY SITES, WANTED.

"Without expressing an opinion as to the merits or demerits of the race track as a business adjunct, there are other locations on the level land in the eastern outskirts of the city, where it would not interfere with the expanding development of the city's commercial interests. I have no hesitation in saying that it will be a blessing to Oakland and Berkeley when the present location is abandoned, to make room for factories and many new approaches, to a large area of the east shore harbor frontage.

"We should encourage both Alameda and Berkeley to start the construction of at least one municipal wharf each, believing the success of one will create an incentive for others."

OTHER SPEAKERS.

Among other speakers were Dr. Gross, R. H. Adams, R. E. Durst, Colonel A. G. Grinnell, W. Covell, T. E. Hayden, F. M. Cameron, E. P. Woodward, Phillip F. Cook, W. I. Reed, H. A. Ingalls and R. H. Adams. The committee which presented the resolutions to the City Council were Dr. A. O. Girard, W. L. Reed and E. H. Hotte.

Communications expressing regret at being unable to be present at the meeting were sent by Mayor Frank K. M. and George A. Smith.

The motion was made by Colonel Girard to interview the secretary of the Labor Council, J. B. Bowen, with reference to assisting the administration in regard to the bond issue. Phillips F. Cook and Colonel Girard were appointed on this committee.

BENCH WARRANT ISSUED FOR REARREST OF CHAS. WILLIAMS CHARGED WITH FELONY.

The failure of Charles Williams, who is charged with a crime against a 10-year-old boy, to appear in the police court when his case was called for trial this morning, resulted in the forfeiture of $1500 cash bail, which had been deposited with Justice Moore by the accused man's brother-in-law, Dr. E. K. Kasten, 1500 Seventh Street. After declaring the bail forfeited, Police Judge Mortimer Smith issued a bench warrant for the逮捕 of Williams, and the police say that every effort will be made to take him into custody.

MAKE SOUNDING FOR NEW WHARF

Construction of Berkeley's Proposed Municipal Dock Will Not be Difficult.

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—That the construction of the proposed municipal wharf at West Berkeley will not prove to be a matter of great difficulty is the opinion of engineers from Healey & Tibbits, wharf builders of San Francisco. Soundings were made Thursday in preparation for putting in a bid for the building of the wharf.

The seabed at the proposed location was found to be even, and the opinion was expressed that the driving of the piles will be of little difficulty. A hard stratum below the bottom at this section of the bay has rendered pile-driving difficult in the past, but little trouble of the kind is anticipated in the present case.

CITY AND COUNTY OF BERKELEY MAY RESULT.

Lawyer Proposes Amend- ment to Constitution to Further Adoption of Plans

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—That Berkeley may safely be made a city and county of itself was the opinion rendered by Attorney Stacey W. Gibbs last evening in his report before the conference committee in reference to this matter. Gibbs was appointed by the North Berkeley Improvement Club at its last meeting as a committee of one to look into the legal phase of this question, and he has made an exhaustive study of the matter from every standpoint.

LEGAL POINT.

"The State constitution provides that a county may be divided," said Gibbs, "but it does not provide within five years of each other." This has led to considerable discussion in the past as to whether county seat means the building itself or the town within which the county seat is located.

This matter was settled once for all at the last session of the legislature when the county seat was defined as being the town in which the county seat is located.

"This decision would make it impossible for Berkeley to become a city and county of itself, unless the constitution can be modified so that an exception to the law can be made in the case of a municipality having a population of over twenty-five thousand. This I am confident can very readily be accomplished."

Gibbs suggested several other methods by which the desired end might be accomplished, but the above mentioned seemed the most practicable.

Judge Waste Declares Wharves
Certain to be Built on Berke-

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—Judge William H. Waste, G. W. Skilling and Dr. Frank Woolsey were the speakers at a meeting of the residents of the Dwight Way district at the first of a series of band concerts which will be carried out through the winter. The meeting was of an informal nature, but the audience received the remarks of the speakers with great enthusiasm.

Dr. Woolsey, after a brief survey of the growth of Berkeley during the last few years, introduced Judge Waste, who told of the Berkeley ten years ago, "then composed principally of green fields" and "country stores."

FUTURE PROSPERITY.

Judge Waste proposed that the Dwight Way section would in time become the most thickly settled section of Berkeley, its western end being projected into the bay by means of the system of wharves which are now practically certain to be constructed.

G. W. Skilling, the next speaker, pro-

pised that within the next few years from ten to fifteen millions of dollars would be expended for the improving of water front of Berkeley. He considered the exceptional growth of the past few years and the amount of what the next few will bring forth.

Readers of Shakespeare will remember that Ancient Pistol offered to go bail for Sir John Falstaff, the most eminent honorable brik in literature. It is of record that the security was rejected. Mr. Spreckels will have to get a better sponsor than his imported private detective. The public likes not his security.

Langdon's Position.

In a signed card William H. Langdon says he is taking no part in the mayoralty contest. He declines to state whether he is for Ryan or Taylor. Perhaps he is not yet decided as to which of the two to knife in furthering his own interests. He would willingly go with McCarthy to secure his own re-election. Daily the Chronicle, Call and Bulletin assert that the election of Dr. Taylor is essential to good government and the restoration of financial confidence, that all who fail to stand for Taylor are derelict to their duty. How does Langdon's attitude square with this rule? Posing as a stern and righteous reformer, he shirks the first duty of a citizen, dodging between Ryan and Taylor, like a greased pig at a country fair. However, he could not do otherwise and be true to himself.

District Attorney Langdon, through being a candidate on both the Ryan and Taylor tickets, is between the Devil and the Deep Sea—though we are not attempting to establish which of these two is the Deep Sea.

The Mr. Talbot, whose divorce suit is so prominently in the San Francisco papers, when it comes to the final scene should not be afraid of the King of Terrors—he seems to have lived with the Queen of Terrors for a number of years.

The arrest of the Strunsky couple by the St. Petersburg police is not a horrible abridgment of personal rights at all. It is simply a natural result of not sawing your own wood in your own back yard.

The laying of the corner-stone of a new custom house at San Francisco on Thursday was an interesting event in its way. The time is very near at hand when the government will be required to supply Oakland with such a structure. Commerce is growing here rapidly; and, if the same custom house facilities for the clearance and entry of vessels and cargoes to and from foreign ports were provided in this city, many of the cargoes which now go to San Francisco's docks for subsequent trans-bay shipment would be delivered direct on Oakland's wharves and the toll for transhipment saved. It won't be long before the pressure of public opinion will compel the abandonment of the policy which forces all of the customs business to the western side of the bay. If there ever was a policy in the restraint of trade that is one.

The recent panic in New York proves conclusively and in a most emphatic way what has been demonstrated often before, that there is a limit to the investment in speculative securities and to their acceptance as collateral for loans beyond which it is unsafe for the soundest financial institutions to pass. It has been an oft-taught lesson; but the temptation to disregard it, when a high rate of interest for the use of money is offered, seems to be irresistible with those who are generally regarded as safe and sound financiers. Yielding to the temptation and assuming the risk may for a time prove profitable, but, sooner or later, its evil consequences are experienced and that often when disaster is either least expected or the man who has gone beyond the limit is least prepared to ward it off.

One of the Builders of Oakland.

(FROM THE CRITIC, OCTOBER 26)

There have been many persons and firms that have participated in the building of Greater Oakland, but chief among them is THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE which, for the last thirty-three years, has been continuously supplying the people on this side of the bay and a good portion of the Pacific Slope, with the news of the world. Each community is judged in general by the quality of its papers. The daily or periodical that bears the name of its home town is taken as the standard of that town. That THE TRIBUNE leads its contemporaries on this side of the bay is admitted, and that it ranks as one of the leading dailies of America is also admitted. West of Chicago there is not a better evening paper than that published in Oakland. It took thirty years or more to bring about this result, but the city itself has received the full benefit. Letters to Eastern friends, pamphlets and advertising matter in general are great helps to a city, but the publication of one great daily journal outclasses them all in the matter of publicity, and it is safe to say that throughout the forty odd States of the Union, Oakland is known more because of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE than because of all other factors put together. A great newspaper will make a great city and vice-versa.

The guiding genius of THE TRIBUNE for a full generation has been W. E. Dargie. He directed the course of the paper when it was a four sheet dodger, back in the seventies, and he has directed it since it took rank as one of the great papers of this State. His untiring energy, acumen and ceaseless activity have been manifested in each of the successive evolutions of THE TRIBUNE. Without Dargie as a rudder during the infancy of this city, and also during the town's maturity, there would not have been a great paper.

One glance at THE TRIBUNE as it is published daily is evidence that Oakland has long since passed the village state and has entered into the charmed circle of metropolitan cities.

In building up THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE Mr. Dargie did not only make a great newspaper, but he has made many great newspaper men, who now have a reputation that is national. For instance, there is the late Arthur McEwen, known throughout the United States as a writer. Then there is Andy Lawrence, formerly manager of the Examiner but lately Hearst's chief advisor. Lawrence has practical control of five of the Hearst papers. "Pop" Cahill, editorial writer on the Call, is also one of the developments of THE TRIBUNE. Edward H. Hamilton of the Examiner editorial staff is a product of THE TRIBUNE too, so is Ed Clough. There are a dozen other newspaper men who graduated into journalism through THE TRIBUNE who are now occupying positions of note.

It is this farsighted policy of Dargie that made his paper the success it is today. He always secured the services of the best men in the business, with the result that he always secured the best results. It requires some brains to discover a genius, and it is a comparatively safe statement to say that there have been more newspaper stars on THE TRIBUNE than on any other paper in California. At least the Eastern papers have taken up eagerly with the men developed by THE TRIBUNE, and as a matter of fact the old staff of THE TRIBUNE is now directing more newspapers and their policies than the staff of any other paper in the United States.

While Mr. Dargie was instrumental in creating many great newspaper men, his greatest service to the community was probably in continuing THE TRIBUNE when the skies were very dark. There was a time when Oakland was not in a mood to support either a good or a bad paper. It was during this time that Dargie's courage shown most resplendent. Other men would have been discouraged, but he never lost faith in his town. He went forward resolutely, and it was a good thing for Oakland that he did so. If he had faltered during the several crises, Oakland today would not have had a representative daily paper. When financial affairs were looking black Dargie worked the harder, with the result that THE TRIBUNE today is not only a fixture in Oakland but is one of the standbys of the Pacific Coast. Probably one of the most notable achievements of Mr. Dargie is the fact that he has successfully invaded San Francisco. For a score of years the San Francisco dailies have invaded Alameda county four strong. The denizens across the bay never dreamed that there would ever be an awakening in Oakland, and that a paper here should be sent across the bay. THE TRIBUNE, however, has crossed the bay, and has a circulation in the metropolis of the coast of from 6000 to 9000 a day. When the local circulation of some 40,000 is considered, this gives THE TRIBUNE about second place in the matter of circulation on the coast. Of course, this cuts out the claimed circulation of several papers, but it is true nevertheless.

Thirty-five years ago Mr. Dargie was a reporter. He was fresh from college—the University of California—and he entered into the field of journalism a mere novice. He mastered the arts of the profession and was soon able to call himself a proprietor. THE TRIBUNE at that time, in 1874, was not a sheet to cause alarm. It consisted of only four pages, the size of a handbill. Under the able management of Dargie and his brother, Thomas T. Dargie, the late postmaster, it began to grow until today 96 pages, standard size, with full Associated Press dispatches, is the limit of the large edition.

In making a great paper out of THE TRIBUNE and incidentally making the name of Oakland well known throughout the country, Mr. Dargie has made a small fortune for himself. He has always been a booster and there is probably no one who begrudges him his success. Aside from the eleven-story bank building, THE TRIBUNE is the classiest thing that Oakland has, and there is no harm in being proud of it.

Because Of Brown Not King Edward's Smiles She Seeks Divorce KENTUCKY BEAUTY TO OPEN A SHOP

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Not at all flattered by the attention paid her by King Edward, even if it did lead her plain American husband to seek a divorce, Mrs. Margaret Johnson Brown has returned to this country to again take up the details of her business on West Thirty-first street, when she conducts a shop for the sale of antiques and Old Country furniture.

Last night Mrs. Brown told to The American about the interesting event that led up to the trouble because of which suit for divorce was brought in Lexington, Ky., by her husband, Lewis Brown, who alleged that Mrs. Brown had deserted him and was then residing in England with her father, the English agent for R. Hoe & Company.

The filing of the papers for the divorce led to the disclosure of the story regarding Mrs. Brown's first appearance at an English theater, at which time King Edward also happened to be present, and, noting the beautiful Mrs. Brown in another box, sent his personal page to the Brown box with a request that Mrs. Brown favor the royal box with her presence.

ANGERED PLAIN MR. BROWN.

This procedure was not in strict accordance with the views of plain Mr. Brown, who intimated that he would deal rather harshly with King Edward's messengers, or even with King Edward himself, should any of them again presume to seek Mrs. Brown's acquaintance on such short notice.

Mrs. Brown's ideas of royalty were not altogether in accord with those of her husband, and it is said that she poked considerable fun at him on account of his jealousy of King Edward.

It was but a short time after this incident that Lewis Brown returned to this country without his wife and again took up his residence in Lexington, Ky., and shortly afterward began an action for divorce. Mrs. Brown, in the meanwhile, remained in London with her father, but finally came to this country where she opened an antique shop on Thirty-first street.

Upon her return Mrs. Brown had this to say regarding the King Edward incident and her husband's suit for divorce:

"As regards my invitation of King Edward, the entire affair has been greatly exaggerated. Over in England it is not regarded as anything unusual for any of the royal family, should they desire the attendance of any one whom they happen to see in the greater audience at the ro-ral box, to dispatch a messenger to the box of the party desired.

"I had never met the king, but some of our party were acquainted with several members of the King's party, and when King Edward expressed a desire of meeting myself and husband, one of the party volunteered to show us in the King's box, and I was duly introduced to His Majesty.

"Perhaps I had better give you the details more fully. The entire story of the King Edward theater incident is as follows: Shortly after the arrival of myself and husband in England, we went so that Mr. Brown could take up a position as assistant to my father, who was then and is now European agent for the R. Hoe & Co., we, with a party of English friends of my father, attended the Drury Lane Theater. We occupied a box almost opposite that of the King.

"During the second act the attention of every one was directed by the entrance of the royal party, and whispers went around the house to the effect that King Edward was in the party.

"During the third and last act a member of the King's party came to our box, and, after being introduced, inquired if I was not an American and upon my affirmative reply said that the King always liked to meet Americans and invited the entire party to the royal box, which invitation was, of course, accepted. That ended the entire incident. We were all introduced in turn, and after some of the usual conventional conversation returned to our own box.

"Where the story that my husband was at all disgruntled originated I am at loss to understand."

SHE'S A PLAIN AMERICAN.

"I am a plain American woman. I love my country. I care nothing whatever for royalty. King Edward or any other Englishman. I lived for some time in England merely because my father was agent there for an American concern, and naturally had to reside in London.

"The King Edward incident had nothing to do with my marital troubles. Mr. Brown and I would never have lived together had we never seen or heard of King Edward. When I left him in England I never intended to live with him again, and upon my return to this country I wrote him to that effect. I am in business in New York, and there is where my whole interest lies."

WRITE HER REPUTATION.

Whether or not Mr. Brown, plain American, was disgruntled over my behavior, but nevertheless he returned to this country, resigning his position as assistant to his father-in-law, and, going to Lexington, Ky., went on the road of the traveling salesman.

In his abandonment charges he attaches a letter purporting to have been written by Mrs. Brown when the latter was living at the Walcott in this city. In this letter Mrs. Brown tells her husband in unmistakable words that she is through with him—that she will never live with him again under any circumstances.

The King Edward incident is not mentioned in the divorce proceedings and no doubt the incident would never have become public had not Mrs. Brown, who was said for the time being to have been a trifling flattery to King Edward's attention, told a few intimate friends among the gentler sex, who failed to observe the pact of secrecy placed upon them and Mrs. Brown is a very handsome woman and with an abundance of golden hair. She has always been known as one of Kentucky's handsomest women.

VISIT QUAKER VILLAGE.

The attractive hosteleries in the environs of Northampton were the goal of many who did not carry their own lunch. One party of girls went to Bedford, the little Quaker village famous for its delicious "eats." Mt. Tom claimed a great many parties and several dinner engagements were scheduled at the Mountain House. Another party of girls hired the hotel on Mt. Holyoke, spent the night there and arose early to see the wonderful view of the sunrise. The quaintness of Deerfield attracted not a few.

The whole country round about rang with the merry voices as the carriages sped along the highways.

The fact that the voices on the return to town were not quiet so lusty had the significance of the joy in singing.

$10,000 Damages For One Little Hug

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Policeman G. P. Wadsworth of the Englewood station was made defendant in a suit for $10,000 filed in the Superior Court yesterday by Mrs. Jesina Roubout, 372 Green street, who is his sister.

Mrs. Roubout says the "copper" commented upon her alleged actions at Sixty-seventh street and Center Avenue. In other words, she says, she is not fond of her neighbor, walking together on that evening. They stood for a long time in the shadow of the church hugging and kissing each other.

Miss Bullis has been appointed an immigration inspector in New York for the special purpose of collecting information about the white-slave traffic. She was appointed on the recommendation of Robert Watchorn, immigration commissioner at Ellis Island.

He says that, despite the scrutiny to which immigrants are subjected, women of non-English-speaking races are constantly smuggled in, to be held as practical slaves, for immoral purposes; and they are so carefully drilled in advance in the stories they are told that it is almost impossible for the male inspectors to detect them. The government proposes to make a systematic effort to put a stop to this abominable system.

Miss Bullis has been connected with the Travelers' Aid Society and has done much philanthropic and sociological work. Watchorn believes she can furnish the department conclusive proof of the existence of the white-slave traffic. This would enable the immigration officials not only to deport women who have been brought unlawfully into this country, but to punish those who are responsible for this sort of immigration.

It is wise to lay aside so much each month or week for running expenses, so much for clothes for each of them, and always the most they can afford to add to the bank account after everything else has been paid for.

The wife's allowance should be concerned in the running expenses and be as generous as the demands made upon it warrant and her husband's income will permit.

Some wives will prefer to handle all the money for the family, making it go as far as possible and keeping what they can save out of this for themselves. This is not often satisfactory and must apt to lead to disappointment.

Take it specified that, no matter how small, should be allowed to the wife as her own. No questions should be asked as to manner in which it is spent, and it should be given cheerfully and willingly by the husband or breadwinner.

Many husbands turn over their whole salary to their wives, keeping out of it only enough for their daily needs.

In some families this is the best way, as the wife may be the less extravagant and able to make the income go further. Even if this is the arrangement, a certain portion of this amount should be allotted to the wife and considered as her own.

DO NOT LIKE TO ASK.

No wife likes to run to her husband for a dollar or so every time she needs it; and it is no more agreeable for the husband to be always having demands made upon him.

Many households are made miserable by constant disputes and arguments about money matters.

There is a simple way to avoid all this unpleasantry, make the most of your worldly income and leave yourself and your family free from unnecessary traps.

When a certain mode of living is agreed upon by two people the husband should make his wife his confidant in all financial matters. They may then lay out a plan of dividing and spending their income so that each may have the comforts they can afford.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—For the third time in three years twins were left by the stork yesterday in the cottage of John Totten, near Elm Park, on the Morning Star road, Port Richmond. Great was the joy in the household, and the eleven other Totten children crowded in to welcome the latest arrivals.

Should a wife have a salary?

This question is one of vital importance in every home, and one that should be well considered and agreed upon by each woman or man who contemplates matrimony, says Grace Hyatt.

Most certainly the wife should have a salary, or an allowance, whichever she chooses to call it.

There are many satisfactory ways of dividing the family fortunes, but whatever the plan a certain sum, no matter how small, should be allowed to the wife as her own. No questions should be asked as to manner in which it is spent, and it should be given cheerfully and willingly by the husband or breadwinner.

Many husbands turn over their whole salary to their wives, keeping out of it only enough for their daily needs.

In some families this is the best way, as the wife may be the less extravagant and able to make the income go further. Even if this is the arrangement, a certain portion of this amount should be allotted to the wife and considered as her own.

THE MEDDLER

A BUSY WEEK.

Scarcely had the younger set recovered from the joys of the ball given by Katherine Brown when they were overwhelmed with delight with the cards of invitation to the dance to be given by the Misses Butters at Alta Vista on Hallowe'en. If there is anything which sets the blood flowing it is the suggestion of fancy dress, for nothing is quite so much fun and one is willing to go to a deal of trouble to make gay the ensemble of such an event. This fancy dress ball was masked as well, so there was the element of uncertainty and surprise. A number of the younger married set were included in the invitations with quite a few from San Francisco, including Dr. and Mrs. Garneau, who are friends of Mrs. Bray, Russell Selfridge, who is a cousin, several city men, and some of the younger officers of the fleet.

TEAS OF THE WEEK.

Mrs. Walter Starr entertained twice during the week at her charming home, "Redwoods," in East Twentieth street. Mrs. Starr is a genial hostess who loves to see her friends about her. On Tuesday her guest of honor was Mrs. Frank Richardson Wells, who is visiting at Ettemere in Fruitvale. Mrs. Wells came to California because she was not well, but is rapidly recovering her old health, spirits and color in the environment which is naturally hers. She is already looking very well and Mondays at Ettemere are busy days, so many are the friends who wish to see charming Jean Hush Wells again. On Friday Mrs. Starr received in honor of Mrs. Starr senior and several score of guests crowded the charming home.

HOUSE GUESTS.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Washington have been entertaining the two nieces of Mr. Washington whose home is in New York. There has been a good deal of informal entertaining in their honor. The ladies left for New York on Thursday of this week.

Mr. Stephen Kirby of Kansas City, who has spent several weeks in Alameda as the guest of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kirby, left for his middle Western home on Wednesday of this week. Several card parties were given in Mr. Kirby's honor during the last fortnight of his stay. Among these was a large one given by Mr. and Mrs. Kirby two weeks ago. Last Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Read gave a card party in his honor at their Alameda avenue home, and on Monday of this week Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Craft entertained ten guests at five hundred, also in his honor. All of Mrs. Craft's guests were from Alameda.

CONGRATULATIONS ARE BEING OFFERED.

It does not seem like race suicide in the circle of well-known young people, for every week brings its cycle of births to record. Among those who are receiving congratulations this week are Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Smith, to whom a son has been born. Mr. and Vincent Whitney (Pearl Landers) who since their marriage last fall have made their home across the bay, are the happy parents of a daughter born on Wednesday evening of this week. Mrs. Whitney, who is very popular, will be showered with flowers and pretty notes.

On Tuesday the San Francisco friends of Prince and Princess Poniatowski (Beth Sperry), received telegrams announcing the birth of a boy in Paris on Monday. Both mother and child were reported as doing well. This is the fourth boy in the Poniatowski family, and his sex will be a slight bit of disappointment, as a girl was very much desired by both parents. Mrs. William H. Crocker was crossing the Atlantic to be with her sister, but is still at sea, where she was informed of the birth by wireless telegraphy.

COMINGS AND GOINGS.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spreckels, Jr., are leaving this week for the Hawaiian Islands and Japan, for a trip of some months' duration. They are taking their motor car with them, and will tour Hawaii and Japan if the snow is not too deep in Japan. In Hawaii the Spreckels, of course, have many friends among them the Henry Foster Duttons and the Harry Macfarlanes, who will entertain in their honor. Mr. Spreckels has not been well since his accidental asphyxiation by gas which might have proved fatal if Mrs. Spreckels had not been near. The little children of the family are remaining with the J. D. Spreckels, Sr. during the trip. They are Marie, aged four, and John D. Spreckels, III, who is less than a year old.

Mrs. Lloyd Baldwin and Miss Grace

Baldwin have sailed for home and will come directly through to San Francisco, where Miss Baldwin's marriage to Russell Selfridge will soon be celebrated. It will be an event of the late fall or early winter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sperry, who have been in Europe since March, returned to their San Francisco home on Monday evening.

Most of the homing European travelers have now returned for the winter, and it is quite time for the orchestra to strike up.

BIG EVENTS
ACROSS THE BAY.

Cards are flying about for a succession of large teas in San Francisco, at each one of which a debutante is to make her bow. Cards are out for a large tea to be given on November 2 by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Woods to present their youngest daughter, Miss Dorothy. Dorothy Woods is the prettiest of the Woods sisters, and will make the big old home in California street gay with dances and "doings," for she is a lively girl, very popular with the young set. She skates and dances exceedingly well and the big house at California and Octavia street will certainly be crowded next Saturday when she makes her debut. Men as well as women are invited to the tea which will be the first large one of the winter.

On Saturday, November ninth, Mrs. L. L. Baker will introduce Miss Helen Baker to society at a large tea in the beautiful turquoise ball room of the Fairmont. Society is sorry that it is not to be a ball but more people can be entertained at a tea, and it is not so dull for those who do not dance.

On November sixteenth, just a week later, and also a Saturday, the W. Mayo Newhalls will introduce two daughters at a large tea at their splendid new home which is to be opened then for the first time for a large entertainment.

Still later Mrs. Eleanor Martin will give a tea or perhaps a dance for Miss Genevieve Walker, the kind woman who is visiting her and who, with Miss Genevieve Harvey, will make the Broadway house gay this winter. Miss Walker, who is pretty and vivacious, gave a small tea on Wednesday of this week to the debutantes of this year and a few of the preceding seasons, entertaining also about thirty naval officers. Miss Helen Baker gave a luncheon this week to a few of this year's debutantes. Never has there been such a large list of debutantes, and as the young girls are all great friends, there will be gay doings, but it is a little hard on the older girls, who will be almost if not completely, shelled. However, with the great number of naval officers in port there should be sufficient partners, at least, to go round, though as to available husbands, I am not so sure. Several of the debutantes, however, are wealthy, so that they will make good brides for naval men.

Among the girls this year who make a most attractive bouquet are the Misses Newhall, Miss Louise Foster of San Rafael; Miss Dollie Cushing and Miss Leslie Page, the last three all from San Rafael; Miss Dollie McGavin, Miss Augusta Foute, Miss Helen Baker, Miss Genevieve Walker, Miss Dorothy Woods and Miss Maillard.

The parents of Miss Leslie Page and Miss Dollie Cushing have taken houses in San Francisco for the winter, as have the parents of Miss Louise Boyd, who was one of last season's buds. The Pages have taken the house in California street occupied last winter by the Donald Campbells and the Boyds have taken a big house in Franklin street. Mrs. Baker spent last year in San Francisco, has also taken a big house in town, and all this points to many good times. The Mailliards have a beautiful city home, and Miss Maillard and Miss Page are cousins. Miss Page has just returned from Europe with quantities of pretty Parisian frocks. Miss Dollie Cushing has just been whisked off to Hawaii by her mother, Mrs. Sydney Cushing, for a little rest before her coming out, so that she may be fresh for the really strenuous season which is to come. Miss Dollie MacGavin will probably not have a formal coming out, but will make her first bow at the first Greenway, which takes place this year or December sixth, giving all November for the crystals to be broken and the butterflies to emerge. One young debutante has twelve new ball gowns, so you can see how much dancing they expect to do.

BENEFIT FOR THE UNIVERSITY DISPENSARY.

Among the debutantes none is more popular than Miss Margaret Calhoun, who was a debutante in Charleston last winter, but who is very young, very pretty and very vivacious. She is seen everywhere, and her Southern cordiality endears her to the other girls and to me also. She dresses beautifully, always in soft clinging things in the pastel shades, and is always a charming picture. Among her closest friends are Miss Genevieve Harvey and Miss Walker.

HANGING OF THE CRANE.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cooper have returned from a prolonged wedding journey and are keeping house at the Marie Antoinette apartments. They have charming rooms and are very happy. Mrs. Cooper, who was Miss Anita Harvey, had the mastoid operation performed and a very severe illness just before her marriage, but she is now perfectly recovered and is looking very well. For walking she is wearing a short plaid tailored suit and a large Alice blue hat on the back of her head, a charming combination, which is very becoming.

"SAMSON" A SUCCESS.

The performance of "Samson" at the Greek Theater last Saturday night was a great artistic, financial and social success. Several thousand people were in the Auditorium, automobiles lined the roads, the night was warm and beautiful with fleecy clouds running across a full moon and the applause at the excellent acting was long and prolonged. Several scenes produced a profound effect. I believe the young women of the Collegiate Alumnae who gave the show for the benefit of the dormitory fund have not yet counted all their receipts, but they made between a thousand and fifteen hundred dollars after paying the bills for a beautiful and expensive mounting, which cost something over a thousand dollars. The Collegiate Alumnae wished to give a worthy production, and the result was one not heretofore seen in the Greek Theater.

Miss Bernice van Gelder is an attractive young lady, who is winning recognition in local musical circles.

REFERENCE TO THE SMART SET.

No accounts of social life are ever complete without reference to "a smart set" and perhaps the most difficult thing in the world, to either define or describe, is this same "smart set."

Alfred Sutro, the noted playwright, is in New York, and his work in life is to study conditions that he may faithfully represent them on the stage. His conclusions are worth while, and a recent interview is interesting.

A Duke usually dresses very well, but in the matter of intellectuality, he is not superior to the middle class. It is rather difficult to know what is the aim of the "smart set" anywhere. I suppose they want to enjoy themselves. They must do something, and that is the least tiresome thing they can do. They are not idle, no; you can't call them that—they are just rich.

The young man who has nothing to do, but shoot and ride is not interesting.

In London there is an almost irresistible temptation to be dull. Over here there is a force in the air that frightens one. Society here is not based on a peerage, but upon a greed for power. There are actually people in society here who tell one they go to the theater every night. What splendid courage! Money opens any door anywhere in the world. Society with the biggest S is a society with the biggest purse.

MRS. SYLVANUS C. FARNHAM.

this one of the clubs absorbing the talents of artists and making no adequate return for the same. The clubs do not want amateur work; they want to be amused with the best there is in the artistic line, and all over the country programs at women's clubs are of unusual excellence. And heretofore they have cost the clubs little or nothing. And now comes the revolution from the other side—the revolt of the artists. So the word has gone out that there is to be no more free music in New York. If any of them, men's clubs or women's clubs, want singers or players of any kind, they must pay for them.

The musicians all say they are willing to come more than half way in the matter of payment. They don't expect to make money in the clubs, but they would like something for expense and enough to have a pair of gloves cleaned, if not bran new ones.

So the International Art Society says it has organized for the purpose of protecting professional musicians from the graft of social clubs, and it has begun its work in real earnest.

The president of the new society says: "We do not want very much; we only want bread and butter and gloves. People go to a professional and ask him to sing or play, and say: 'People will hear you; you will get a notice, and it will be good for you!' In fact, people grow tired when they have heard someone all over the country. Musicians will be better appreciated if they are paid." There is something in it all to be considered not only by women's clubs in New York, but in every other large city in the country.

SPRECKELS GIVE DINNER IN NEW YORK.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Spreckels gave a very elaborate dinner last week at the beautiful new Hotel Plaza, in New York. The guest of honor was Mrs. Edward Moore Robinson of Philadelphia. Mrs. Robinson has been abroad this year and was regarded as one of the most beautiful young American matrons from the East, and she is her guest.

Mrs. Clark was formerly Miss Gertrude Vorhees, and she was a classmate of Miss Mathes at the Horton school.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark are at the Key Route Inn, where the luncheon for Miss Mathes was given.

HALLOWEEN ON LAST OF MONTH.

Halloween comes the last day of the month, and all sorts of table decorations are ready for the festivities.

There is the plain papier-mache Jack o'Lantern, and the more elaborate bonbon box, a little vegetable man with a Jack o'Lantern head. Bonbon boxes for favors all have some relation to the harvest, the figures being made of different vegetables.

A cucumber dog stands upon four cucumber legs and has a squash for a head. Other boxes take the form of black cats and witches. More than the ordinary dates are out for Halloween festivities, and the young people will spend some interesting hours in the merry land of Jack o'Lantern. He has many ways of giving one glimpses into the future, and they are delightfully creepy—and weird, and solemn. A favorite symbol is the "Skull and Crossbones"—it is not specially enlivening—but then the gruesome, the unexpected, is an important phase of a Halloween festivity.

Miss Arline Johnson is to entertain at a Halloween luncheon in honor of the sweetest bride-elect of the year,

Miss Alla Henshaw. The Johnsons are to occupy this year the Lukens residence on Jackson street, but the luncheon for Miss Henshaw will be given at the Clairmont Club, at half after one on Halloween. Among Miss Johnson's guests will be Miss Henshaw, Miss Florence Henshaw, Miss Josephine Johnson, Miss Anita Thompson, Miss Katherine Brown, Miss Chickering, Miss Ruth Houghton, Miss Meek and Miss Kates. The Johnsons always entertain beautifully, and Miss Johnson is a most capable hostess, so the luncheon bids fair to be one of the most noteworthy events of the autumn days.

LONDON ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED.

An engagement announced in London last week will be of much interest to Californians, the engagement of Mrs. Edith Kip McCreery to the Hon. Henry Thomas Coventry, third son of the Earl of Coventry.

One reads of the engagement:

A few years ago Mrs. McCreery was divorced from her husband, Richard McCreery, son of Andrew McCreery, the Western millionaire. Richard McCreery lately married Lady Grey Egerton.

Mrs. McCreery has a large fortune in her own right. For some years she has spent much of her time abroad, and has been prominent in London society. She has a house in London and also in New York.

AN ENGAGEMENT FROM PARIS.

Of much interest to many prominent families in Oakland, is the engagement just announced in Paris, that of Mr. Frederick Huntington Clark and Miss Eleanor Phelps.

Miss Phelps is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phelps of New York, and the granddaughter of the late Lucius Booth of Piedmont. The home of the Booths was for many years one of the best known in California. The Booths originally built the James Moffitt residence on Twenty-second street, but went later to Piedmont, and lived for many years close neighbors to the Regals.

Miss Minnie Booth married Charles Phelps of New York City, and her home has been for many years in the East; but she has come out at intervals to California, bringing her daughter with her to visit the relatives in Piedmont.

Indeed, we have much to interest us in the way of clothes just now, with our returning travelers bringing home such wonderful wardrobes. For among those exquisitely gowned these autumn days are Mrs. Frank C. Havens, Miss Avis Sterling, Mrs. William G. Henshaw, Miss Alice Henshaw, Miss Florence Henshaw, Miss English society and American society is its complete reversal of incentive. In England a man annihilates his past if he can. In America there is no significance to anything but a fortune, an elastic, ever-devouring instinct for power.

The millionaire must go on till he is a billionaire or be swept off his feet. He can't escape, and he has begun his struggle for power. And this rush for power is the dangerous crisis in American society.

JOSEPH CHANSLORS HAVE RETURNED.

The Joseph Chanslors are back again in San Francisco, having traveled a great deal during the summer and autumn.

Mrs. Chanslor has the distinction of being the best dressed young matron in San Francisco, and she has been wearing costumes this season both striking and original. She has one of the huge mushroom hats, with sweeping white plumes that fall almost to the waist line in the back, and she looks quite like one of the old Guisborough pictures that one sees in the fine old galleries abroad.

Miss Elsie Kimble, a younger sister of Mrs. Chanslor, is also a stunning girl, and she spends a good deal of her time with the Chanslors in their San Francisco home.

SOCIAL NEWS of the WEEK

shaw Mrs Henry A Butters Miss

Marie Butters Miss Marguerite Butters. The gowns are all so pretty so artistic, so effective that the wearers make dainty pictures well worth looking at Alta Vista was beautifully remodeled for the home coming of Mrs Butters. Everything that money and true affection could accomplish was done and the home represents one of the most artistic residences about the bay.

Mr Butters' electric roads in the mountains are developing enormous interests which absorb much of his time but now that Mrs Butters is home he will spend a large part of his time here. One of the charms at Alta Vista is a devoted family affection and that alone is the keynote to a happy household.

The first entertainment of the winter at Alta Vista is the Halloween dance which Mrs Butters will give for her daughters the Misses Marie and Marguerite Butters.

The big ball room will show the usual Jack o'Lantern decorations and dancing will be the order of the evening.

The guests are expected to arrive in fancy dress or in domino and masque—everyone is to be masked and the masques will be removed at supper.

Mrs Butters is not asking her older friends only the young friends of her daughters.

The younger matrons who will assist Mrs Butters in chaperoning the dance are Mrs R Augustus Brin, Mrs G B Cook and Mrs Oscar Long. Mrs Lindsay, Mrs Garneau, Mrs Alpheus Clement, Mrs Edward Bravton, and Mrs George McNear Jr. Among the girls invited to the dance are Miss Florence Hush, Miss Carnegie Taft, Miss Havens, Miss Nicholson, Miss Ida Matthes and the actress' guest, Miss Mitchell of Boston.

Miss St. Nicoll of Stockton, a friend of the Misses Butters of convert days is to be among the guests and there are to be several friends from San Francisco at the dance.

Other young girls fortunate enough to be included in the guest list are the Misses Perkins, Miss Dorwin, Miss Houghton, Miss Thompson, Miss Brown Jr., Misses Henshaw, Misses Frazer, Miss Kitts, Kurtz, Miss Gertrude, Miss Bell, Miss Dolly Tarpey, Miss Avis Sterling.

The men asked for the Jack o'Lantern evening are Charles Hubbard, Alex and Joseph Rosborough, Valenine Hush, Du Val Moore, of San Francisco, Ben Taylor, Willard Bartlett, Philip Paschal of San Francisco, James Knut, Richworth, Nicholson, Shirley, Fughton, Percy Caskin, Lloyd Lac, Eugene de Conlon, Paul Edwards and Stuart Hawley.

The dance bids fair to be immensely picturesque and the young people bid fair to have the time of their lives.

MISS BROMWELL TO ENTERTAIN

And yet another Halloween date is to be chronicled for Mrs F L Bromwell is to entertain for Miss Matthews, a charming young girl friend who is her guest.

No one knows better how to plan a thorough good time for her guest than Mrs Bromwell. She is so joyful, so full of fun that everyone has a good time in her home and her young guests are looking forward with much pleasure to the afternoon which she has planned at her home on Saturday.

MISS LOHSE AND MISS GREGORY ENTERTAIN

The large and most important teas of the week have been those given by Mrs Gregor and Miss Lohse by Mrs Walter Starr and by Mrs Sylvanus Burnham.

All of them had for a motif popular brides and brides elect and all of them were most enjoyable affairs.

Mrs Gregor and Miss Lohse have one of the very attractive homes on the hill on Mariposa avenue and it was very beautifully decorated in honor of the tea.

The complimented guests were Miss Knowles and Mrs Charles Hutchinson, one of the very best loved of all the brides of the year.

Mrs Gregor is a petite, blonde, very attractive looking like a very dainty foreign picture and Charles Lohse is also one of the most interesting girls of her set. She is very pretty indeed and one of the very few young girls who can wear lavender in the latter color scheme she makes an exceedingly charming picture.

The Lohses are a very devoted family and pretty Mrs Montell Taylor assisted her sisters in making their afternoon a great success.

Mrs Hutchinson has perhaps the most extensive trousseau of any bride on this side of the bay in many months and one wonders how so many different gowns could all be so exquisite planned. Every one delighted to honor Mrs Hutchinson she has always been so good to her friends that rare and very true friendships fall to her lot. She looked what she was—a radiant happy true-hearted bride.

The tea was also an occasion for the gathering of many friends who wished much happiness to Ruth Knowles whose engagement to Harry Chase was announced last week.

Miss Knowles has lived in Oakland most of her life and in consequence has many friends who are greatly interested in the happy engagement just announced.

Among those invited to the tea at the Lohse home was Mrs Felton Taylor, Mrs Lydia Baldwin and Miss Grace Gross, Mrs. Walter Starr, Mrs John more or less and we go our different ways and they are more or less estranged from us. But that is not so with Jean Hush Wells. The strong affection of her friends remains unchanged and her home-coming is always full of joy for her and for her friends.

At the tea Friday afternoon Mrs Starr will be assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs A A Moore, Miss Ethel Moore, Mrs A A Moore Jr., Mrs John J Valentine Jr., Miss Florence Hush and Mrs A A Hoyt.

Over a hundred invitations have been sent out for the tea and there bids fair to be a large attendance on Friday at the East Oakland home of the Starrs.

MUCH BEING DONE FOR MISS OLIVER

Miss Carolyn Oliver is another bride elect for whom much is being done in a social way and she is an other very dear bride elect who deserves to the fullest extent everything that is being done for her.

It would be hard to find a sweater or more attractive girl or one more dear to her friends than Carolyn Oliver.

Mrs Willard Williamson has sent out cards for a most elaborate tea in her honor the guest list including many of the most prominent young girls and young matrons of our city.

The Williamson home on Hillside avenue is one of the most artistic of the many new homes at Piedmont, and it will be the scene of one of the most brilliant teas of the season.

Mrs Henry Rosenthal has also sent out invitations for a card party to be given at the Nicholson home on Eighth street next Monday afternoon. The game of the afternoon will be Bridge and the guests will be afterwards enjoying a box party at Sapho.

Olga Nethersole is at her best in Adrienne Lebourcier, the French actress and the theater was crowded for the matinee there being a large attendance from San Francisco.

self a place in the social and literary life of the southern city. She directs the art and travel sections in the Los Angeles Ebell Club, and does other work when her literary work is not too pressing. She has edited many of the English classics for school use, and has done creditable work along purely creative lines.

Miss Packard's Oakland friends hope to again entertain her next year.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.

The concert given at Ebell last night by Miss Alice Davies brought out a most appreciative audience of goodly numbers, and the little violinist was made to feel that she has many friends whose faith in her future is deep and sincere. She plays unusually well; her first number was a "Reverie" by Henri Vieuxtemps, and in response to encore she gave the "Huemoresque" by Dvorak, and a dainty arrangement of "The Last Rose of Summer." Her second number, a "Scène de Ballet," by De Beriot, was followed by the "Lullaby" from "Désirée." All of the numbers illustrated the sympathetic quality of her interpretations, a tenderness that is most unusual and appealing. Her technique is far advanced for one of her years, and gives evidence of much hard study and intelligent practicing.

PETITION FOR WIDER STREET

Property-Owners Along Fourteenth Plan for Much Heavier Business.

A petition to be presented to the City Council, asking that it order the eight-foot walk on Fourteenth, between Market and Harrison streets, in the city of Oakland, be widened, and the center line of the street be moved to the outer line of Harrison street, hereby respectfully requesting your honorable body to change the width of the street.

A. J. Snyder, Louis Jeffereson and J. E. Thayer also spoke in the same strain.

The petitioners say that the growing importance of the street, the late arrival supported the measure.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION.

The resolution to be sent to the City Council, and which was signed by all the petitioners, reads as follows:

Atten.—"Heaven knows—I don't."

BLISSFUL IGNORANCE.

Upgrad—"You often dine in a Chinese restaurant, do you? What do you generally eat?"

Atten.—"Heaven knows—I don't."

If sick hair only ached as sick teeth do, there would be very few bald people in the world. Why be kind to your teeth and mean to your hair?

Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps well hair well. Cures sick hair. Feeds weak hair. A hair-food, a hair-medicine, a hair-tonic.

BATTLESHIPS COMING TO THE PACIFIC SOON

BIG FLEET WILL LEAVE DEC. 16 BOYS ADMIT ROBBING STORE

All Plans Made for the Huge Squadron That Is Coming Here.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Secretary McRaef today announced that it was definitely settled that the Atlantic fleet will leave the Hampton Roads on December 18 for its cruise to the Pacific coast. This announcement followed a conference held at the White House, to which the President summoned Secretary Metcalf, Rear-Admiral Evans, who will command the fleet on its cruise to the Pacific, and Rear-Admiral Brownson, chief of the bureau of navigation of the navy department. The conference was called to complete more in detail the cabinet meeting discussion of naval affairs yesterday; the discussion related particularly to details of the Atlantic fleet's cruise to the Pacific.

ALL PLANS MADE.

It is understood that matters were in such shape that the President was thoroughly informed on all important items to the itinerary. Admiral Evans, who has been confined to his apartments on account of an indisposition, looked and declared himself to be much improved in the afternoon.

The Bureau of Insular Affairs today received a cablegram from Governor-General Smith of the Philippines asking that the Atlantic fleet be permitted to visit Manila during the week beginning February 10, in order to attend the pre-Lenten festivities. The fact that the fleet will not have arrived in Pacific waters by that time precludes this.

Secretary McRaef stated that the question of allowing newspaper correspondents to accompany the fleet was discussed and the conclusion reached not to allow newspapermen aboard, but that officers of the fleet would be designated to send such news as might be thought desirable to make public.

NO PROTEST FROM JAPS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—"No such relation exists between America and Japan as would make it improper to send the American fleet into the Pacific. If there were the relations between America and Great Britain and the relations between America and France, which are the same, would forbid the maintenance of the British fleet in the Atlantic ocean."

This was the ready returned by Secretary McRaef to the direct question as to whether Japan had uttered any protest against the departure of Admiral Evans due to the Pacific next December. The statement was made at the conclusion of a long conference between Secretary Root and Ambassador of Japan at the State department today.

CHECK PASSER GETS ONLY FOUR DOLLARS

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.) SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Another smooth business check operator is at work victimizing the merchants of the city. Yesterday he succeeded in passing two bogus checks, but received only $1 for each.

The first place visited was the Laskey brothers' on Fillmore street, where he bought a dress suit case, giving a check for $30 and a darning the package sent to the St. Francis hotel. The check was made out in favor of G. A. Anderson and was signed by H. C. McBride. It was drawn on the California Bank and later, when Mr. Laskey tried to cash it, for the fact it was worthless. The man obtained no change from Mr. Laskey and the firm is not out anything by the transaction.

The next place visited by the crook was the firm of Henry Lyon & Son, tailors, at 35 Market street. He purchased a $25 cravatene overcoat, giving a check for $20 and receiving $4 change. He also ordered this purchase sent to the hotel and the firm is merely out the cost.

Captain of Detectives Kelly has detailed two men on the case and expects to have the man in custody very soon.

KING'S DAUGHTERS ELECT THEIR OFFICERS

The County Club Branch, International Order of the King's Sons and Daughters, had two most interesting meetings this evening and afternoon, during which business of the organization was transacted. The meetings were held in the First Avenue Baptist Church, and a large audience attended both sessions.

This morning the delegates pledged themselves to care for and support little Miss Jessie Edmunds, who, for the twelve years of her life, has been unable to move from the front door of her home at 2011 Tel-Graph avenue, and is said to be a remarkably bright little girl, who loves to build houses for the tiny persons. The King's Sons and Daughters this morning decided to contribute $30 a month toward the education and material comfort of the little invalid.

PITIFUL CASE.— Mrs. Matilda Brown reported a pitiful case to the society, asking its intervention and help to care for her son, a baby girl, just two weeks old, who was recently adopted by an Oakland couple and raised with tender care.

When she came for her to walk she showed no ability or strength for that purpose. The foster parents consulted Dr. Sauermaier and other specialists, but the little girl remained as she was. There was no hope for the little one, diagnosis or case as spinal trouble, from which she will probably never recover. The delegates to the San Francisco convention in the State to be devoted to the care of the little person. Miss J. E. Clark, who was chosen as custodian of the fund.

The King's Sons Branch, next voted $100 contribution to the "Silver Cross," the official publication of the I. O. K. S. and D. O. F. Officers elected.

The following officers were elected this afternoon to serve on the State and executive committee during the coming year: Mrs. Marshall M. Davis, assistant secretary; Mrs. Earl Lindsey, recording secretary; Miss Mary Haynes, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clark (non-voting member); Mrs. J. C. Clark (non-voting member); Mrs. L. J. Watt.

Executive committee—Mrs. L. J. Watt, Mrs. E. S. Parker, Mrs. Frank Parker, Mrs. M. L. Taylor, Miss Claribel Williamson, Mrs. Whitman and Mrs. Robinson.

Mrs. F. C. Gale presided over the meeting. Delegations exercised their right to speak in the afternoon. Miss J. Spencer Riley sang in a most pleasing manner at both sessions.

STOCK MARKET WEAK.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 26.—The San Francisco Stock Exchange Board had a quiet session this morning. The market opened at 100, and closed at 98. Gold Consolidated sold at $25.50 but closed at $24 bid. Comstock mining stocks had a strong rise.

SKELETON IS TRIAL EXHIBIT

Fred Tyler's Alleged Bones Appear in Steve Adams Murder Case.

SPOKANE, Oct. 26.—A special to the "Chronicle" from Butteville, Idaho, says the exhibits in the Steve Adams case were today turned over to J. A. Foster, Clerk of Kootenai county, to be used in the trial which will be resumed next Tuesday.

The exhibits turned over are the skeleton, alleged to be that of Fred Tyler, the murdered man, letters addressed to him and found in the clothing, also the clothing, a sack containing some canned fruits and remains of other exhibits a picture of the man, his gun, a revolver and a ledger containing a number of names that was exhibited at the former trial at Wallace.

OPENS DOOR; FACES THIEF

Porch Climber Flees When Woman Confronts Him on Leaving Her Home.

A daring porch climber, bent upon pilfering the home of Mrs. Gunn, of 1605 Madison street, was frightened away just before he reached the second story window of the residence last evening by the unexpected appearance of Mrs. Gunn at the door below him. The fellow was climbing up one of the pillars on the front porch when he heard the door open. He dropped to the ground instantly and made away in the darkness.

Mrs. Gunn is congratulating herself over her opportunity to leave the house, as in a moment later the thief would have succeeded in entering it.

ROBBED WHILE SLEEPING.

B. S. Quinn, 18th street, reported that his purse containing $4 was stolen from under his pillow while he was asleep last night.

Thieves broke into the saloon of M. A. Anthrose, at 251 Webster street, last night, but secured only $2.

The store house of the Columbia Theater, located at 211 Second street, was broken into last evening, but nothing was taken.

FOUND GUILTY OF BURNING FACTORY

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 26.—After remitting out nearly 15 hours, the jury trying George Makown, the Webster City man charged with destroying by fire the Northwestern Felt Shoe factory, returned a verdict of guilty. Petition for an arrest of judgment and a new trial will be filed.

Makown was arrested in California two months ago and taken to Webster City.

PUGILIST MUST FACE CHARGE OF ROBBERY

A representative of the Los Angeles police department will arrive in Oakland today to take George Omerod, alias Young Dempsey, the pugilist who was arrested here on Thursday, back to the Southern city. Omerod is wanted there on a charge of robbing and beating one Charles Stack.

$24,000 THEFT STILL PROVES GREAT MYSTERY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 26.—Further investigation into the robbery of the United States Express Company of money packages, amounting to $24,000, reveals the fact that bags containing $60,000 remained untouched, although easily accessible to any one who could open the safe.

This seems to be negative to all the theories that the safe was rifled and makes it more probable that the money was taken while in transit to the depot office. The local police were called to the assistance of the company, and a minute inspection of doors, windows, safe, etc., was made. Superintendent McDonald today admitted that he was still without definite information as to how the robbery was accomplished.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

On suspicion that he was the man who had robbed Pat Kenny, a prisoner on the Isle of Man, his gold watch previous to Kenny's arose from drunkenness, W. H. Appleby was taken into custody by Detective Quigley and Policeman Curran last night. Appleby has been charged with robbery.

FATALLY INJURED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—E. E. Schmitz, appeared in Judge Dunne's court room today for the argument on the four charges of extortion pending against him. The cases went over till November 9.

A FAIR ASTRONOMER.

Sir Robert Ball had delivered a lecture on "Sun Spots and Solar Chemistry." A young lady who met him expressed her regret at having missed the lecture.

"Well," he said, "I don't know as you'd have been particularly interested. It was all about sun spots." "Why," she replied, "I would have interested me exceedingly. I have been a martyr to freckles all my life." Bellman.

ARREST POKER PLAYERS.

Sylvester Smith, J. H. Skinner, Irving Thomas and James Clark, who were arrested in a raid on a poker game on Monday night, failed to appear in the Police Court this morning and their bail was ordered for $4 bid.

CON-STEEL MINING STOCKS HAD A STRONG RISE.

MILLER PLEADS FOR ORIENTALS

Poet Declares California Needs Asiatic Labor—Defends the Yellow Man.

JOAQUIN MILLER, the Poet of the Sierras, in a lecture last night at California College in East Oakland, taking as his subject, "Render Unto Caesar the Things That Are Caesar's," gave extensive personal views on the Asiatic question in California and the country at large. His appeal for better treatment of Oriental races was fervid and carefully listened to by the goodly gathering that had assembled to hear the California bard. He took a firm position in behalf of the Mongolians, under the argument that they are a peaceful class and desirable citizens for any country.

The poet said in part: "The firm of Brandt & Solomon has again appeared in a legal controversy in this county, growing out of a bond of the value of $7000 given to County Auditor Pierce at the time of their acceptance of the contract to build the Lincoln schoolhouse.

About two weeks ago Solomonson brought suit against his partner, claiming that he was not applying the funds of the firm to the proper purposes, and asking for a dissolution of partnership and the appointment of a receiver to investigate the existing conditions. In the meantime, Hugh and John Doherty are due to arrive here from Fairbanks, Alaska, about November 15. The former will remain but ten weeks, while the latter will remain winter here with his family and parents.

Tony J. Rodopick has purchased a teen-handpaper, four-year-old, from an auctioneer with a col-lobster company here for several years past. The groom is the second son of John Flynn, Sr., of this valley. The young couple will make their home in the grove of San Francisco.

PASTOR OF VALLEY.

Rev. C. Anthony, late of Aurora, Illinois, and who was the first pastor of the Presbyterian Church in this place, here on a visit to his brother, Rev. Eugene Hochheimer, at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning.

Mrs. Winnie Bill of Whinemere, New Zealand, the widow of her uncle, F. S. Flucker, died and family.

LIVERMORE, Oct. 26.—Joseph A. Segars and his partner, Mr. Osborn, arrived Thursday evening from Dawson, Yukon Territory, to spend the winter here with their families. Mrs. Osborn and children have been visiting here for several months past, and are now staying with Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sattler, Miss Mary Flynn, sister of the groom, is bride-maid, and William Flynn of San Francisco, was best man.

NURSE BECOMES BRIDE.

J. C. Holmes, of this place, and Miss Louise Cooghan, formerly a resident of the town, were married in a ceremony touching the bride's name, Saturday evening at the Livermore Sanatorium, were married in a quiet affair, and the bride, a young woman, will remain here with her husband until the wedding day.

COURT ORDER REFUSED.

The efforts of Bromley were evidently unsatisfactory to the Solomonson interests, for Lewis went before the court during the early part of the week and asked that Frank L. Denton be named in the bill of particulars. The defendant here on account of the burning last week of the Arcade store in San Jose, when she was then employed, and is now in the Hotel Majestic. The couple went to the Wedderburns, and later will make a quiet wedding, according to the couple's wishes.

WOMAN WANTS PEACE.

After referring to the peaceful relations between the Chinese and California and the Chinaman, both at mining camps and in towns, and after dwelling upon the necessity of foreign labor on the Pacific coast, Miller continued as follows:

"If in the neighborhood of nations, there could always be equity there would always be peace. And the world wants peace. But when one nation justly and fairly goes to war with another nation, then the world's peace is threatened, maybe broken. One nation can no more insult a neighbor nation without some sort of penalty, sooner or later, than one citizen can insult a neighbor citizen without some sort of friction, or some sort of resentment, sooner or later."

After participating further on the Chinaman's alleged honesty, integrity and general good character, drawing his conclusions from personal experiences with his brethren, he closed his speech by saying:

CALLS IT UNCHRISTIAN.

"Ask any one of the government officials from Governor down and he will tell you if he speaks from the heart he abhors the exclusion act but must stand by his party. But I appeal to Congress to abolish it. We are already paying two or three prices here for all we eat because the farmer pays two or three prices for labor and can't half the time get it at that. Repeat this unchristian exclusion act and all will be well with all."

RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 26.—Dr. Frederick Muus, of Cincinnati, was re-elected president of the National German Bazaar here today.

RESPECTING HER OATH.

"Judge, will you do me a great favor?"

"Certainly miss; what is it?"

"Will you please ask me my age before I take the oath?"—Yonkers Statesman.

GOSSIP FROM THE SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

SCHWAB'S HINT

Now, in my opinion, the defeat of Langdon is more important to this community than the election of Taylor. For under Langdon's administration the laws are being prostituted to a most mendacious purpose, and as I have heretofore pointed out it is absurd to expect to lure Eastern capital by the election of a conspicuously respectable mayor, if we continue to make it obvious that we are wedded to sancroto politics. This sentiment was endorsed last week by Charles Schwab at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce when he said: "We in the East draw the impression that San Francisco is in a state of political turmoil and that its courts of justice are in the hands of factions. Let me beg you to drop once and for all this internal political strife that is destroying faith in you abroad. Do your best to disentangle yourselves from these things and you will find quickly that the hand of good fellowship will be extended to you everywhere." And the next day we had another street car riot, which gave the grand jury not the slightest concern. This delectable body which is making history for each of its members is so busy attending to the important matter brought before it by Mr. Langdon's assistant, Mr. Henry, that it cannot afford to fritter away any time in seeking to compel the police authorities to perform their duties. So it is not singular that the mob should give fresh proof every little while that sandalism still prevails in San Francisco. Nor is it singular that the East, as Mr. Schwab says, is under the impression that a faction is in control of our courts. Our courts being preoccupied with the trials of men to whom Mr. Spreckels has refused an immunity bath can give no time to the few rioters under indictment. Let the riots go on, but let us never halt those faction-ridden courts that for the applause of the mob would tar and feather justice.—Town Talk.

AN ILLOGICAL CANDIDATE

Candor compels me to confess that I like not either the logic or rhetoric of Wm. H. Langdon's public utterances. I must insist upon the evidence offered by the newspaper reports of Mr. Langdon's speeches, that he is neither logical nor accurately rhetorical, and that he is, therefore, guilty of offense unpardonable in a lawyer who has been a pedagogue. Mr. Langdon says that the bribees are worse than the bribe, because the bribees are the fundamental sources of crime." This is an illogical proposition because it can be reversed upon the premise that the bribees are worse than the bribees because they tempt the fundamental sources of crime."

Now for Mr. Langdon's schoolmasterly rhetoric. Here is a sample: "Graft, as a crime against government, is like a silent shot in the back from an unseen ambush. We must beat the bush—every foot of this municipal ground, etc." The paronomasia of "ambush" and "bush" is perilously on the verge of a poor pun. Mr. Langdon mixes his original effort at metaphor with the literal etymology of the word "ambush," from which is derived the word "ambuscade." He tells his hearers that we must "beat the bush" to discover and disperse the "unseen ambush"—which is ridiculous language and unworthy of one who has guided the tottering feet of the young in paths of learning. The gross tautology of "unseen ambush" is too obvious for serious comment: a glance at his dictionary would have revealed to Mr. Langdon the verbal "ambush" into which he was precipitating himself. Then I would like to know more definitely what Mr. Langdon means by "a silent shot in the back." The figure is somewhat vague and utterly confusing. I am unable to determine whether the ambuscade is composed of unseen air-guns, crossbowmen or men in Kendall green armed with clothyard shafts feathered with plumage plucked from the tail of a gray goose. As I read I am compelled to pause and strain my mental faculties in opened; and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil." Mr. Langdon's logic can rise no higher than its source in what he calls the "fundamental crime." His reader violates one of the fundamental principles of rhetoric, which is precision. If Mr. Langdon were merely a lawyer he could be pardoned for his lack of knowledge of the basic principles of good English; but he is also a schoolmaster and ought to know all about it. If he were merely a schoolmaster he might be pardoned for knowing little of the "fundamental" principles of logic; but he is also a lawyer and ought to know something of the "fundamental sources" of law.—Town Talk.

WHAT LANGDON WOULD HAVE DONE

I want to deal fairly with Mr. Langdon. There would be no fun in dealing with him at all if I could not convict him of flat hypocrisy in his attempt to utilize the crass stupidity of his audiences for his own interests, which he seeks to subserve by the votes of the unknowing and the unthinking. Therefore I will treat Mr. Langdon as a finite being; a merely human entity entirely devoid of omniscience and consequently absolutely incapable of comprehending the divine logic that massed the "fundamental source" of all crime and punished the criminals impartially—cursing the serpent briber "above all cattle," multiplying the sorrows of the woman who was bribed by the serpent; and sentencing the man who had "harkened unto the voice of his wife," to "eat bread in the sweat of his face." As I read the words of Mr. Langdon in the reports of his speeches I am forced to the conviction that if he had been district attorney of Eden at the time of the original graft prosecution, he would have used Adam as a witness against Eve and the serpent and striven for a verdict that would have cursed the "fundamental sources" of the crime and left a miserable, contemptible, cowardly informer in sole possession of the garden and the fatness thereof. Fortunately, Mr. Langdon was not created district attorney of Eden.—Town Talk.

TANGLED VERBAGE

Now for Mr. Langdon's schoolmasterly rhetoric. Here is a sample: "Graft, as a crime against government, is like a silent shot in the back from an unseen ambush. We must beat the bush—every foot of this municipal ground, etc." The paronomasia of "ambush" and "bush" is perilously on the verge of a poor pun. RESTLESS ANNA STRUNSKY.

Anna Strunsky has at length achieved international celebrity by getting arrested in Russia, but unfortunately she is being referred to in many of the dispatches as Mrs. Walling, the name which she did not take when she married Mr. Walling. It was agreed, at the time of the marriage, as I reported, that Anna Strunsky should not forfeit her maiden name. She had no objection to the name of Walling; nor does she think that a name is of any special consequence, but she has some very strongly entrenched notions respecting the dignity and independence of her sex and a very lively prejudice against the practice of merging the identity of a wife into that of a husband. So when Anna Strunsky became Mrs. Walling she remained Anna Strunsky. She is a woman of very romantic temperament, and highly charged with sympathy for the oppressed. She is of the land that produced Turgenev and Tolstoi, and of the race that produced the Book of Job and the Song of Songs, and therefore it is not strange that conditions in Russia should not be to her liking. A few years ago she made a trip to England to visit her countryman, the noble Prince Peter Krapotkin, humanitarian, scientist, lover of liberty, now living an honored exile in London, and on her return to this city she was bubbling over with zeal for the welfare of the oppressed of Russia. Many a night in Coppa's did she regale the little bunch of sympathetic spirits that gathered at the round table to discuss art and literature and excite the admiration of the unsophisticated who dropped in to get a whiff of an artificial Bohemian atmosphere. For Anna used to take that little coterie seriously. As for the Kempton-Wace letters to which such frequent reference is made, they were not much. They were not even original, for William Sharp and a woman had long before done the same thing and in much better style. In the Kempton-Wace letters Anna Strunsky defended lyric love against the biological onslaughts of Jack London.—Town Talk.

BECAUSE THE CALHOONS WERE THERE.

The Winship dinner at the Fairmont was a big shock to that section of newspaperdom which is dominated by the not very mystic Phelan-Spreckels influence. In advance, before the list of invited guests was given out, the dinner was boomed as one of the big events of the season, but when it was over the gush writers of the inspired journals were called off. There was great indignation in the parochial section of newspaperdom because among the most distinguished guests were the Patrick Calhouns. And that was why the dinner was pronounced taboo.—Town Talk.

THAT FUNSTON RECEPTION EPISODE

Mrs. Malcolm Henry's friends have borrowed the mantle of a sleuth and they are stalking through brass button society to find out who maliciously made public the story of Mrs. Henry's appearance at the Funston reception at the Funston reception to the officers of the fleet. The thing has been dragged at great length through the columns of one daily paper and was first hinted at on the society page of another morning paper, so it is evident that someone has taken special pains to make public the faux pas. The finger of suspicion points very aggressively at a certain lady who is not in the army. It is said that she overheard Mrs. Henry apologizing to Mrs. Funston for mistaking the function as one to which the general public was invited, and she straightway told a reporter of the affair. Mrs. Henry might have beaten a hasty and undignified retreat when she found out her mistake, but instead she preferred to confess it in a well bred way to the hostess and as a result she has been subjected to a lot of unpleasant notoriety.

As she is one of the most popular young matrons in town her friends are naturally incensed at the seeming effort to humiliate her. In the long and inaccurate account of the affair, Mrs. Henry was said to be the wife of an army officer stationed near Philadelphia, whereas it is her sister, Mrs. Young (Marie Voorhees), who married into the service. Mrs. Henry herself having recently been divorced from her husband who is a resident of Washington, D. C.—Town Talk.

MRS. GOODWIN'S DIVORCE

Mrs. N. C. Goodwin, who is to sue her husband for divorce, with sensational chapters in the legal papers, is the eldest daughter of "Admiral" Fulton G. Berry, the Fresno vineyardist. As Mindora

Berry, she was an earnest missionary and went to China to labor among the Orientals. One of the family friends, who heard that "Minnie" Berry was in China, trying to convert the heathen, remarked at the time that she had better have confined her labors to a section nearer home, for her father's repertory of firebrand profanity was then famous. He used to bring that repertory into play when his daughters did anything to displease him, and all three of them gave occasion in their rather sensational matches. The youngest, Mabel, was an invalid: I believe she had symptoms of consumption. She went out for a drive one day with one of her admirers and came back his bride. The marriage was not happy, for the bridegroom was discovered to be far from what he claimed and what his delicate little bride had imagined in her dreams of idealization. Maude Berry married Dr. Fisher of Oakland without her father's permission on an occasion when she was to appear in a concert. It nearly gave her father a stroke of apoplexy. I have heard, when the news reached him, but he soon forgave the happy pair. Mrs. Fisher later divorced her husband and still later married Frank Moulan, a member of the operatic company of which she was prima donna. Minnie Berry's marriage was a surprise, though on a smaller and constantly diminishing scale.

After the marriage of Porter Ashe and Miss Amy Crocker they to be entangled themselves in the bonds of matrimony the sooner they begin to find them galling, and wish to have them severed. Mrs. Gouraud's mother owned a good deal of property in San Francisco when she was the wife of Porter Ashe, but for several years she has been disposing of it, sold by Mrs. Ashe. At the time of the sale the Hobarts had just become very rich, through the mining ventures of the older Mr. Hobart and they were desirous of obtaining a residence suitable for extensive entertaining. The Porter Ashe home was accordingly purchased. During the brief matrimonial career of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Ashe, nee Crocker, Mr. Ashe spent a great deal of money on his extensive racing stable and after the couple separated he still continued to figure on the turf, though on a smaller and constantly diminishing scale.

ONE ON SUPT. MCCLYMONDS

The last chapter of Mr. and Mrs. Ashe's brief romance was remarkably sensational. Both desired to retain possession of the only child, who has since become the young woman who was divorced in South Dakota the other day. Mr. Ashe, who seems to have a latent genius for abduction, carried the infant to Los Angeles, the expense of J. W. McClymonds, the jovial superintendent of schools of that city. One of the teachers had been negotiation the difficulty was settled by a liberal cash payment to Mr. Ashe, fifty thousand dollars, it is stories of great Americans of the left. Her prudent father, ex-Governor Baxter of Colorado, let that fact be known. He put out of reach of Hart McKee enough of Tevis money to make his daughter independent.

How few people remember the catastrophe of the broken bridal cake which occurred at the Palace Hotel when the late Hugh Tevis married Miss Baxter. The waiter who was bringing in the artistic confection tripped and let it fall, and there were only fragments and crumbs instead of a triumph of the baker's art to place upon the table. Great was the consternation. The superstitions said it was a bad omen, and whether it was or not, the bridegroom died almost within the month, and the subsequent steps of the bride have not all led her through rosy pathways.—Wasp.

DIVORCE HABIT

The divorce habit seems to have descended from Mrs. Amy Crocker, Ashe, Gillig, Gouraud to her daughter, Mrs. Gladys Crocker Gouraud. A South Dakota divorce has just separated the young lady from the young Englishman, Powers Gouraud, with whom she eloped three years ago. Powers Gouraud is the brother of Jackson Gouraud, the husband of the young divorcee's mother. The latter made a runaway match herself, the man of her choice being R. Porter Ashe, the attorney, who was indicted the other day by Rudolph Spreckels' grand jury, for aiding to abduct that prize beauty Editor Older. R. Porter Ashe is the son of an admiral and a southerner to the core, and it is a small matter to him to grab an offensive editor by the scruff of the neck, pull him into an automobile and take him off several hundred miles from home to be tried for criminal libel.

When Porter Ashe married Miss Amy Crocker she was considered one of the greatest heiresses in California. She is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. E. B. Crocker of Sacramento, and a purse seemed to grow longer after he had taken the initial steps in the divorce suit. The young wife has been service-president of the Southern Pacific Company. The father of W. H. Crocker and Colonel Fred Crocker was the late Charles Crocker, who with Stanford Huntington and Hopkins built the Central Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads, and thus acquired great wealth.

After the marriage of Porter Ashe and Miss Amy Crocker they to be entangled themselves in the bonds of matrimony the sooner they begin to find them galling, and wish to have them severed. Mrs. Gouraud's mother owned a good deal of property in San Francisco when she was the wife of Porter Ashe, but for several years she has been disposing of it, sold by Mrs. Ashe. At the time of the sale the Hobarts had just become very rich, through the mining ventures of the older Mr. Hobart and they were desirous of obtaining a residence suitable for extensive entertaining. The Porter Ashe home was accordingly purchased. During the brief matrimonial career of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Ashe, nee Crocker, Mr. Ashe spent a great deal of money on his extensive racing stable and after the couple separated he still continued to figure on the turf, though on a smaller and constantly diminishing scale.

In the eyes of a child, the little hill near his home looms before him a mighty mountain, and the tiny brooklet singing on its way only child, who has since become the young woman who was divorced in South Dakota the other day. Mr. Ashe, who seems to have a latent genius for abduction, carried the infant to Los Angeles, the expense of J. W. McClymonds, the jovial superintendent of schools of that city. One of the teachers had been reading to the young pupils the stories of great Americans of the left. Her prudent father, ex-Governor Baxter of Colorado, let that fact be known. He put out of reach of Hart McKee enough of Tevis money to make his daughter independent.

"Any others?" asked the teacher.

"Who is it?"

"Mr. McClymonds," he almost shouted.

And it is said that since the superintendent heard the story he has worn his derby on a more decided tilt toward his left ear.—News Letter.

CO-EDUCATIONAL FESTIVITY

This seems to be the season of co-educational festivity at the State University. All sorts of gay and gladsome doings are announced, and estimating merely from the published lists of the "participants," I am forced to the conclusion that co-education has virtually ceased in the academic year by Jackson Gouraud, whose groves and that co-revelry and co-festivities of the two was like that of Damon and Pythias, and when Mr. Gillig became master of Mrs. Crocker Ashe's fortune Frank Unger became the major-domo. In Mr. Gillig the divorcee appeared to have found an ideal husband, and the couple sailed the summer seas in their yacht oscillating between Europe, New York and San Francisco and getting the greatest possible amount of sunshine and pleasure out of life. The spell was suddenly broken by another rapid disappearance, which left Mrs. Crocker Ashe-Gillig free to find a third husband, her selection this time virtually ceased in the academic year by Jackson Gouraud, whose groves and that co-revelry and co-festivities of the two was like that of Damon and Pythias, and when Mr. Gillig became master of Mrs. Crocker Ashe's fortune Frank Unger became the major-domo. LEASE BYRON LANDS FOR OIL

Prepare to Sink Well on Each Quarter Section Over Large Territory.

BYRON Oct. 26.—The excitement over the discovery of oil yielding lands in this section still continues. Much oil bearing sand rock has been found, which, when ignited, quickly burns. W. J. Rhoads J. and A. L. Bowes representing F. E. Burton and A. A. Suyser, who are financing the prospecting work, have been in Byron all the week and have looked over the area of exploration, which takes in twenty-five sections and is 12 miles long.

The last has been equally in Contra Costa, Alameda and San Joaquin counties. The company has leased this land for a period of ten years, agreeing to raise a derrick and sink a well on each quarter section inside of two years or forfeit the contract.

PILATE'S QUESTION TO THE THEME OF SERMON

FUZZYVILLE Oct. 26.—A sermon for men will be delivered at the Fuzzyville Free Methodist Church tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. by Rev. Franklin Rhoda. The minister will take as the text to his sermon Pilate's question "What will you do with me?"

Charcoal Kills Bad Breath

Bad Odor of Indigestion, Smoking, Drinking or Eating Can Be Instantly Stopped.

Sample Package Mailed Free.

Other people notice your bad breath where you would not notice it at all. It is no sin to other people to stand before them and tell them you are talking, the more so if two or three of your bad breath. It usually comes from food fermenting on your stomach. Sometimes you have it in the morning—that is awful, vicious, bad breath. You can stop that at once by swallowing one or two Stuart Charcoal Lozenges, the most powerful gas and odor absorbers ever prepared.

Sometimes your meals will reveal themselves in your breath to those who talk with you. "You've had onions," or "You've been eating cabbage," and all of a sudden you hear in the face of your friend. Charcoal is a wonderful absorber of odors, as every one knows. That is why Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are so quick to stop all gases and odors of odorous foods, or gas from indigestion.

Don't use breath perfumes. They never conceal the odor, and never absorb the gas that causes the odor. Besides, the very fact of using them reveals the reason for their use. Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges is the first place stop for good all sour breath and belching of gas, and make your breath pure, fresh and sweet, just after you've eaten. Then no one will turn his face away from you, when you breathe or talk. Your breath will be pure and fresh, and besides your food will taste so much better to you at your next meal. Just try it.

Charcoal does other wonderful things too. It carries away from your stomach and intestines all the impurities there massed together and which causes the bad breath. Charcoal is a purifier as well as an absorber.

Charcoal is now by far the best, most easy and mild laxative known. A whole bowel will do no harm, in fact, the more you take the better. Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made of pure willow charcoal and mixed with just a faint flavor of honey to make them palatable for you, but they're so sweet. You just chew them like candy. They are absolutely harmless.

Get a new, pure, sweet breath freshen your stomach for your next meal, and keep the intestines in good working order. These two things are the secret of good health and long life. You can get all the charcoal necessary to do these wonderful but simple things by getting Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. We want you to test these little wonder workers yourself before you buy them. So send us your full name and address for a free sample of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. Then after you have tried the sample, and been convinced, go to your druggist and get a 25c box of them. You'll feel better all over, more comfortable, and "cleaner" inside.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address F. A. Stover Co., 208 Stuart Bldg., Marshall.

$100 CASH PRIZE.

AN EXTRA PRIZE OF $100 IN GOLD WILL BE AWARDED TO THE CANDIDATE WHO, WITH THE AID OF FRIENDS, BRINGS IN THE LARGEST AMOUNT OF MONEY ON PAID-IN-ADVANCE SUBSCRIPTIONS FROM FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18, TO SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2.

ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS PAID IN ADVANCE DURING THIS PERIOD, WHETHER BY CANDIDATES OR THEIR FRIENDS, WILL BE CREDITED IN FAVOR OF A CANDIDATE AS REQUESTED.

THE VOTES ISSUED ON THESE SUBSCRIPTIONS CAN BE VOTED AT ANY TIME, OR HELD AND VOTED ON THE LAST NIGHT OF THE CONTEST IF DESIRED.

AT NO TIME DURING THE CONTEST WILL ANY MORE DOUBLE VOTES BE ISSUED OR WILL ANY SPECIAL VOTE OFFER BE MADE. THIS IS AN EXCELLENT CHANCE TO GET $100 IN EASY MONEY.

Although yesterday was a very bad day for the contestants to get around, the sun does not deter those who are in earnest about winning the prize for which they are working so don't give up, though thick and thin, cloudy and dark.

It's the one who works the hardest that gets the most votes that all the rest. Those girls who are the most popular and fairest contestants has in mind and she says she is working on that idea.

It would be a good idea to get in touch with our classified advertisement book, which contains a coupon book worth $100.

HARD WORK WILL WIN.

Those who work the hardest and in earnest for the ones who will, without a doubt, win in every case those who have an end in view and put forth every effort to attain that will be the most successful.

Good hard work until the contest closes is necessary, as every day new contestants are entering with honest intent.

The last two weeks are the general work the hardest, as they know that those who have been in the contest longer than they have a better start and longer to make.

UNION MEN MAKE GAINS.

Some of the union men have made great strides as has also been the case in every class for which a prize is offered.

They realize the importance of working hard now as the contest is nearing its close and every day is a chance to secure those opportunities lost which they cannot have again.

Do not lose time now and expect to make it up later, for the chances may be far enough ahead to discourage you.

MISS OLIVE VORE.

Miss Olive Vore, one of the Berkeley contestants for the $100 prize, makes a small gain in votes today, and will probably show the other candidates the way to get votes during the remainder of the contest.

ED LONG.

Ed Long, the well known bowler and popular union man, increased his lead today. The $100 trip to Yosemite is the most popular union man looks very good to Long and he will probably set a lively pace for the other union men.

SUNSET PEKEAH.

Mrs. Pettigrew of Sunset Pekeah is determined that her organization shall receive $100 in cash and send it in a bunch of votes today. There are two banners, one valued at $350 and one to cost $100 to be given to the most popular.

MRS. PERCY FOX.

Mrs. Percy Fox, regaling the lead today in the voting for the most popular woman in Alameda. Mrs. Grace Shaw is only a few votes behind and may regain the top place at any moment.

MRS. GEORGE W. DAKE.

Though Mrs. George W. Dake has a number of competitors, she still holds first place as the most popular woman in District No. 1—OAKLAND.

J. H. PERRY.

J. H. Perry, the popular O. T. man, has dropped to second place after being at the top for a few days. Perry and Bramstedt are playing a game of see-saw, with Gustafson a close third.

WILLIAM RANKIN.

The second place in the list of most popular Oakland firemen is held by William Rankin, while not saying much now will be heard from by the close of the contest.

BRUCE DIXON.

Bruce Dixon still holds the third place in the list of popular boys. Walter Southard comes fourth. Bruce is a worker where it comes to getting votes, and expects to have enough to win one of the bicycles.

FRANK PHILLIPS.

Frank Phillips has no trouble in holding first place in his district. Frank only entered the contest two weeks ago, but he got all the boys in his district far behind.

HIS GOLDEN STAR IS GONE

Wise Ones Believe Nimble Rogue Robe Sleuth of Pet Badge.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Where in state? The whole Police Department is looking for it and Detective Sergeant E. Gibson is nearly frantic about it, but still it doesn't turn up.

At 8 o'clock this morning this particular star was serenely reposing on the left breast of the big sergeant. He is sure of it, for he threw back his coat when a conductor said, "Fare, please," on a Mission street car, but that is the last seen of it. He says it is lost, but there are those wise ones who tell of respectable pickpockets who have been practising on the street cars of late and who might even care to take a policeman of a valued star.

OF SOLID GOLD.

It must be known that star 23 is no ordinary $7.50 piece of coined silver. It is a solid gold star, valued at $125, and was presented to Detective Gibson by a number of his admirers some time in 1900.

Down in Mexico a police officer stands on the corner and places his lantern in the middle of the street. Then comes a law that you can take the lantern away without the officer catching you, you get $3, but if he catches you in the attempt you go to jail. What reward has the man who can take a star from beneath the coat of a wily slant of the San Francisco Police Department?

PLAN GREAT NAVAL STATION

Congressman Joseph R. Knowlton and to Work for Millions for Mare Island.

VALLERO, Oct. 26.—Congressman Joseph R. Knowlton has taken up the cause of the Mare Island navy yard and will do valiant service in the coming congress looking to the appropriation of a vast sum for improvements at this important plant. Representative Knowlton held an extended conference yesterday at the navy yard with Commandant Phelps and Civil Engineer Rockwell. Plans and estimates were given Knowlton for the improvements desired at Mare Island, which call for the expenditure of several million dollars to make the station the finest naval establishment in the world.

TO EXTEND SPUR DIKES.

The four dikes which were designed by H. H. Roseau, now of the Panama canal commission, and have proved such a success in deepening the channel to the yard, will be greatly extended at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars.

The new dikes, to which vessels under repair are tied, will also be extended about a mile southward toward the magazine. At present the way is so crowded that many of the ships have to be at anchor or at a point below the lighthouses.

THIRD DRYDOCK.

Active preliminary steps are to be taken also with Knowlton's aid for the construction of a third drydock at the navy yard. There is at present one small iron dock, and another great dock is nearly completed, but a third is to be necessary.

For Admiral Richard Holiday, head of the yards and docks department, it was formal duty at duty at the station and he was well pleased to find that the new drydock is nearly ready for use.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Admiral Holiday, when he arrives will be interested to inspect the navy yards here and at Bremerton. When he arrives he will be questioned and shown the necessity of a third dock.

END TO SPECULATORS

The following letter is self-explanatory:

"Mr. A. L. Abbott, 1414 Broadway, Oakland, Cal.—Dear Sir: I write to ask you for protection. If any can be given to me, I would appreciate it.

"My husband has been much annoyed by speculators who have taken advantage of the demand for seats in the Oakland Orpheum Theater to procure bunches of tickets for themselves and to hawk these in front of the theater.

"There is an ordinance which forbids that can be invoked to prohibit this ticket speculation, or to check it in any way. The Orpheum Circuit Company would like to give me a license to do so, but the city will not issue it to me.

"For a license, the Orpheum Circuit Company will give him a license if possible, and the license made as high as possible, and prohibitory if possible.

"There is a license of $300 a month. I believe, I urged to these speculators in this regard.

In this case, the law or ordinance

DEMAND FOR NEW HOMES INCREASES DAILY

ROBERT H. COLLINS' $12,000 HOME AT WEST SAN LEANDRO.

ROBERT H. COLLINS' NEW $12,000 HOME AT WEST SAN LEANDRO

Robert H. Collins of San Francisco is establishing a country home for his family on the Old Muir Ranch at West San Leandro. The site selected is ideal. About a thousand feet from the shores of the bay and in the heart of an old orchard on a rich alluvial soil that will grow anything, a garage, a power plant, a reservoir, are already under way. The central feature of the improvements is the family home. The architect, Newson & Newson, who are residents of Oakland, but have offices in San Francisco, were confronted with the problem of unlimited space, compactly and conveniently arranged, to be covered with an agreeable exterior suitable to the surroundings and of materials resistant to the salt air of bay. The problem was interesting, and called for all the experience and ingenuity of the firm.

The plan shows somewhat of a colonial arrangement. On each side of the reception hall are the dining, living, billiard and music rooms. To the rear, on the sunny side, are the family rooms, private baths, dressing rooms and sleeping porches. At the other corner of the house lay the offices, kitchen, servants' quar-

WALLS RISE ON ARCADE

Hotel at Twentieth Street and San Pablo Avenue Rushed to Completion.

There are references in this department of THE TRIBUNE today tending to show the progress which is being made on a number of fine buildings which are being constructed in the center of the city, but in this article reference is made only to a structure which is in the line of vision of those only who have to pass to or from the northern part of the city.

This structure is the Arcade Hotel, which is rearing its walls at the intersection of San Pablo Avenue, Grove and Twentieth streets. It was started nearly a year ago and work progressed rapidly until about the holidays, when the contractor disappeared and it was said that there was dissatisfaction among those who had dealings with him.

WORK RESUMED.

This episode caused a disarrangement of the plans of the projectors of the enterprise and several months were allowed to pass without any work being done on the building. A short time ago, however, the tangle was straightened out and there was a resumption of work and the work has been kept up to the present time and it is understood to be the purpose of the management to allow nothing to interfere with the speedy completion of the building. The structure will be five stories in height, the roof being 72 feet from the ground. The San Pablo front has a length of 163 feet, three inches, and the Grove street side has a wall length of 175 feet, nine inches.

STORES AND ROOMS.

The ground floor will be devoted to stores. On the upper floors there will be 158 rooms, which will be furnished in a manner that will please the patrons of the house. It is estimated that the building will cost about $135,000 and will be completed in the vicinity of April 1 of next year.

When completed the Arcade will have an outline similar to that of the new First National bank building, because, like the latter, it is located on the point of a corner block.

The walls up to the first story have already been finished and the frame for the rest of the walls is being put in place, the last story having almost been reached. The Arcade is owned by the Arcades Realty Company, which comprises members of the family of George W. McNeal.

LAYMAN COMPANY.

William J. Layman of the Layman Realty Company is engaged in an abiding faith in the future market value of our own and outside parties in the retail and retail districts of the city. This week we held a sale of real estate in the Auction Committee of the lower portion of the northeast corner of Clay and Eighth streets for three years at an average monthly rental of $500.

A four-year lease for Mrs. Flora Hyde of the building on the southeast corner of Third and Broadway at $125 per month.

A shop for Dr. Schwander on the south side of Twelfth street, between Harrison and Alice streets, to the Buyer Motor Car Company of San Francisco, as salerooms, at $100.

A building at Third and Webster streets to the Western Star Laundry Company for a term of five years.

We have also closed a number of minor leases on business and semi-business properties ranging from $60 to $75 per month. Besides these we have several large central business leases for negotiation which we will be able to renew.

Our country department has been worked overtime trying to handle the business of its department and we look for a steady increase until next year.

THE FIRM REPORTS.

The firm reports the following sales for the past week:

For George Eastman to John W. Helm, one-story dwelling, five rooms and bath each, with lot 10x100 feet, situated on the northeast corner of East Fourteenth street and Seventh avenue, at $12,400, as a residence.

For William N. Halbert to John C. Forster, two-story house on west side of Fairmount avenue, near Santa Clara, at $10,000.

For C. Robinson to P. Raleigh, lot size 33x100 feet, on a street.

Lot on east side of Tenth avenue, 100 feet square, one-story, second street, for C. S. Shan to Duncan Stewart, lot on the west side of Highland avenue, opposite Twenty-fifth street, size 40x125 feet.

For William E. Fribie to T. K. Khor, lot 10x100 feet, on the west side of Oak street, twenty-five feet north of Fifth street, at $12,500.

For Kelly to L. J. Hazan, lot on the east side of Broadway, 187 feet north of Grand avenue, size 30x100 feet, for $850.

Lot on the northeast corner of A and Grand, opposite to M. Robinson.

For T. Ammons to M. Cuthis, lot on the north side of A street, fifty-three feet east of Hannah street, at $1,000.

For William E. Shatford, lot 10x100 feet on the south side of B street, east of Hanna street, at $1,200.

SALES REPORTED.

When interviewed yesterday by our representative, P. E. Englehardt, manager of the Heart of Elmhurst trust of the M. T. Minnet Company, spoke very encouragingly of the present ready conditions in Oakland and added:

"The public are looking for money for the purchase of investments, let the position be prosecuted vigorously and no doubt Oakland has a modern plan that can handle this unhealthy, foul-smelling mass that is now allowed to accumulate in different portions of the city."

The danger of contagion and disease is alarming while conditions remain as they are and decisive action along the lines suggested is what Oakland needs far more seriously than parks and play-grounds.

Yours truly,

JAMES A. JOYCE,
Ninth and Washington.

MANY SALES ARE REPORTED

Real Estate Men Declare That Business is Good and Prospects Are Excellent.

A. J. Snyder reports that for the first three weeks of October the sales in his office equaled the September business in number. "But while we are selling as many homes, the average price," said Mr. Snyder, "I do not think quite equals the September average, which was something over $5000 each. This was unusually high for a monthly average in homes. While the showing of sales is quite satisfactory, I could easily double it if it were possible to get installment houses to meet the requirements of the purchasers. There is a larger demand from home buyers now than at any time during the past several years.

The scarcity of rentable houses at reasonable prices is forcing this demand, and the family that has been able to save from $500 to $100 in cash appreciates the desirability of paying it down on a house and paying $35 to $50 per month installments to pay that amount in rents.

"It is the $500 buyers that it is hardest to accommodate. Those who are willing to pay $3,000 to $1,000 are placing right along."

SOME RECENT SALES.

The partial list of the recent sales from the office of A. J. Snyder is as follows:

For Mrs. M. Wade to James Sullivan, one-story, twenty-first street, between San Pablo and Grove street.

For Charles Patterson to J. E. Junis, lot 40x100 in A. J. Snyder's re-subdivision of block B, Linda Vista Terrace, lot 40x100, Fifty-eighth street, east of Park street.

For W. L. Embury to Mrs. Corbett, residence on Chestnut street, near Eighth street.

For A. V. Alder to F. J. Westlund, lot 30x100 on Eighth avenue, near East Twenty-second street.

For Mrs. J. E. Hinck to Mrs. F. Hinck, pair of flats on Parker street, east of Grove street.

For Mrs. P. Porch to Mrs. E. H. Danzen, house and lot on Eleventh street, West Oakland.

CAPITALISTIC CABINET DISPLEASES UNION MEN

Taylor Will Not Get Many Votes From the Working Men on Election Day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—The Taylorites have practically abandoned all hope of making any personal political profit out of the disaffection existing in the ranks of the Laborites. Whatever unionist vote which McCarthy will lose will go to Ryan and not to the lawyer-doctor. Until up to the present the Good Government League and the remnant of the Democracy, with which it is allied, have worked to sow dissension, created discord and widen breaches in the union ranks.

But the Taylorites attacked the problem from the wrong point of view. In the first place they gave very few places on their ticket to the unionists and those were given only to create trouble and not to establish any thought of equality or friendship with the working men. The impression was made very clear that representation on the ticket came only as a concession to a class.

POLICY RESENTED.

The Laborites have resented this policy. For several years they have been in control of the municipal government and it jars their nerves to be told that another class is to seize the municipality and parcel out the favors of patronage as it sees fit. From the beginning of the campaign the Taylorites have repudiated fellowship with the unionists and have insisted upon patronizing them.

Every assurance has been given by the Good Government League that the working men will in all ways be protected. This would be very well and possibly acceptable were it not for two leading objections. The Laborites want to take care of themselves by winning at the polls and if they cannot do this they won't accept any assurances from a movement that is financed and dominated by James D. Phelan.

When the activity of Phelan became apparent the hopes of the Taylorites to receive Laborite votes vanished. If there is in San Francisco one man more than another who can excite the wrath and hatred of the unionists it is the ex-Mayor. They will exercise any possible effort to defeat his purposes in whatever field they may be expressed.

All the boasts of the Taylorites therefore that they will receive unionist support are simply on paper designed solely to affect a few stragglers. Even the unions that are antagonistic to McCarthy are more bitter toward Taylor and his cabinet of capitalists. Ryan is the only candidate to whom the malcontents can turn and it is perhaps significant that the disgruntled ones are trooping to his standard. What votes they may carry with them remain to be seen. Ante-election forecasts have proved, too thoroughly deceptive to be indicative of post-election results.

LACK OF INTEREST.

The utter lack of interest and complete unconcern with the emergency municipal administration is displaying toward the street car strike is beginning to have a pronounced political effect. The general public has a strong suspicion that the Taylor administration does not wish to see the strike adjusted before election day. A condition of unrest and confusion, it is believed, contributes to the plans of the fusionists on the theory that a remedy will be provided as soon as the emergency officials feel sure of some permanency in office.

The public, however, particularly retail merchants, are taking a very different view of the situation. The emergency government is for all practical purposes the same as that which is asking for votes under the fusion banner. If the officers now in power were sincere they would act at once instead of waiting until after election to perform what appears to be notoriously their duty. The undisguised purpose of the fusionists to bring to their aid every available influence, good or bad, in the city is working a gradual change in public sentiment that is none to the liking of the leaders or their financial managers.

MINOR CANDIDATES.

Minor candidates on all of the tickets have reached the conclusion that it will be individuals and not parties that will work results at the polls. The consequence is that each nominee is now making his own fight for votes, allowing the rest of his ticket to take care of itself. A general scramble is on and promises to everybody and for everything are as thick as autumn leaves. In the wild impounding for votes one might suspect that such a thing as a straight ballot had never been heard of in a local campaign. Most of the incumbent petty office-holders are in the ranks of McCarthy, as they fear that the election either of Taylor or Ryan will make a new deal and a clean sweep. This would mean hard

WRITES TO EXONERATE JAMES C. O'DONNELL

To the Editor of THE TRIBUNE: Referring to an article appearing in your issue of 23d inst., about my former partner, James C. O'Donnell, known among friends as "Jimmy." I desire to correct a false impression you have about Mr. O'Donnell and his connection with the Oakland Oyster Leaf.

As a matter of fact, he did not leave Oakland to avoid his creditors, for, so far as I know, he has not any creditors. Any debts, therefore, incurred by Mr. O'Donnell were on account of the Oakland Oyster Leaf, not on account of himself. He is the third and only one who is amply able to meet all its obligations. The reason Mr. O'Donnell gave up his interest in the restaurant business was because he wanted to buy a home and having an opportunity to return to the government service, he took advantage of it. I have always found Mr. O'Donnell honorable in his dealing and would ask you kindly publish this as a matter of simple justice. Yours very truly,

PETER P. FLOOD,
General manager Oyster Leaf Cafe and Gill, Oakland, October 26.

BUYS REAL ESTATE; WILL BUILD HOME

LIVERMORE, Oct. 26.—Carlo Ferrario has sold lots 5, 6, and 7 of block 8, on Chestnut street between Franklin and Main, to Peter Minoggi, and his son David, who will build a house on the property.

F. L. Plagemann has purchased from J. F. Plagemann of San Francisco the vacant lots at Chestnut street and Livermore avenue adjoining his residence property.

A mine at Vault, in which Hugh Doherty and his sister, Miss Alice Doherty, of this place are interested, is reported to be paying $5000 per day.

TWO FAMOUS JESUITS COME TO CALL CATHOLICS

What promises to be a great event in Catholic church circles is a two weeks' mission to be given by the Rev. Thomas C. McKeough, S. J. D. D., and the Rev. Thomas A. O'Malley, S. J. S. J. D., two famous Jesuit missionaries from Missouri province, and which will commence tomorrow morning at the 11 o'clock high mass to be held at St. Mary's Church, Eighth and Jefferson streets.

Both of the celebrated priests are credited with being foremost in the ranks of pulpit orators in the United States. They are from St. Louis. These reverend fathers devote their lives to the giving of missions in the United States and they have been greeted with large audiences wherever they have preached.

Both of the celebrated priests are credited with being foremost in the ranks of pulpit orators in the United States. They are from St. Louis. These reverend fathers devote their lives to the giving of missions in the United States and they have been greeted with large audiences wherever they have preached.

In order to accommodate the vast throng that is expected to attend the service, the Rev. Father J. P. Dempsey has decided to segregate the congregation. The first week, from October 28 to November 1, will be for women, and the second week will be given over to the men.

REASON OF MISSION.

A mission is a special season when holy men who have been trained to the task by long years of study and prayer come to the parish in order to recall the people to a better sense of their relationship to God. It is a time of special grace. The people are invited during the mission to make a study of their salvation, a matter of first importance, allowing nothing to interfere with attending the exercises or with the spending of some time daily in prayer and meditation.

ORDER OF EXERCISES.

The order of exercises for each day will be as follows:

At 8:30 each morning there will be mass and short instruction. At 9 o'clock there will be a sermon after mass and at 3 in the afternoon stations of the cross. In the evening there will be instruction for adults who have not made their first confession and communion.

Catholics. This will be followed by devotions, a sermon by one of the missionaries and benediction.

The Rev. Thomas McKeough will appear at 9 o'clock to fully explain the purposes and aims of the mission. The 11 o'clock mass will be a solemn high mass. The celebrant will be the Rev. E. P. Dempsey, the deacon and sub-deacon, Fathers James A. Grimes and Thomas Keaney. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Thomas O'Malley, S. J. A.

MUSIC PROGRAM.

A special musical program has been arranged by Professor Adolf Gregory, assisted by the Oakland Conservatory of Music choir, a special feature being the offering, "O You Who Are Coming." This composition is in the style of music recommended by the Sacred Congregation of Rites. It is the first time this particular composition will have been rendered on the Pacific coast.

The other numbers include organ pieces by Bach, "Arietta," composed by Adolf Gregory. The mass will be Haydn's First, with full orchestral accompaniment. The members of the choir will include Sparrows, Miss Carolyn Smart, Miss Dorothy Clark, Miss Mary Galloway, Miss Mabel Gammie, Miss Anna Wilkie, Contralto, Miss Mary Spiller, Miss Carolyn Ryan and Miss Mabel Wright, Tenors, L. J. Shultz and John Morrison, Basses, John Eichberg, P. C. Pulse, Professor Sandy, Norman Wilke and Frank Reiley.

The orchestral interludes will be Mendelssohn's "Promised Land."

The looks of things here in Oakland. The people here are gradually waking up to the fact that Oakland can be made a great city, but they wake up slow. Some day they will see where they made their mistake, when Berkeley and Richmond will have docks built and the masts of ships of all nations will be seen at their docks. And from their holds will come cargo merchandise from the four corners of the earth and Oakland will be TALKING ABOUT their WATER FRONT. Well, the
